Mummers Parade Before Thousands Here Last Night

Excellent Weather Aids In Making Annual Masquerade Parade Success

WEST PITTSBURGHERS LAND BEST PRIZES

Police Force Handles Situation Well—School Bands Add To Event

Hobgoblins prowled the streets of New Castle Thursday night unmolested. Ghosts smirked their way through crowds and yeggs ran loose under the very eyes of the law. Indians with war whoops like factory whistles were careful not to trip over May West and oriental girls marched with occidental young men.

It was hallowe'en and uncounted thousands of folks came down town to look at the parade, sponsored by the Retail Merchants. From County Line street to the public square, Washington street was jampacked with people while along the middle of the street moved the Mummers.

Highly Successful

It was a successful parade, possibly the most successful in a long list of successes. In point of numbers and street crowds it certainly stands out as one of the largest ever held. Perhaps the weather aided this, perhaps it was just one of those things, but we can't help thinking that the real reason for the success was the group of young men from the Retail Merchants who were back of the venture.

Charles W. Nolan was the general chairman of the evening and had for his grand marshal, Edward D. Pritchard. With them were a group of young business and professional men serving as aides and its a question whether the mummers or the aides had the most fun.

Starting at the Legion Home on North Jefferson the parade moved down Jefferson to Washington,

PA. NEWC OBSERVES

Cecil Smock, of 112½ West Washington street, came across a peculiar freak of nature while whittling a poplar twig the other day. After he had cut the twig, a piece about a quarter of an inch across, he noticed that the center had dried out and was hollow, but the formation instead of being round, was a perfect five-pointed star.

It is expected that the paving of Warren avenue will be completed this week. The street residents state that they are glad of this, as some have not put in their winter coal. The project was commenced the first week in September.

Hunters were out early this morning for the opening of the hunting season. Actual shooting of game was not started however, until nine o'clock.

There was a strange epidemic of porch light burning last night. Most every house in the residential section had the lights turned on. Oh, yes, it was hallowe'en.

To Pa Newc it appeared that the crowd of spectators downtown for the mummer's parade last night, was larger than any at a similar affair in years past.

Workmen have about completed the job of resurfacing Jefferson street, from the public square to Grant street. It is a notable improvement in the heart of the city. Now, if a little attention could be given to a new surface for the public square?

Soaping of autos seemed to do a comeback this hallowe'en season.

Members Of Election Boards In 100 Precincts, Notice!

On next Tuesday the general election will take place in the nation.

In Lawrence County, The News is anxious that results are sent or telephoned to the office as soon as a count is completed in any precinct.

The ballot is short, and the count should be completed fairly early.

With cooperation of the boards in the 100 precincts in the city and county, it will be possible to give comprehensive results locally Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, and also aid in the national compilation of the vote result.

In past elections, many of the election boards have been most cooperative, while others have never been heard from. As a public service, it is requested that all boards cooperate.

The News phone call is 4000.

Roosevelt Policies Assailed By Willkie

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN in New Jersey, Nov. 1.—The foreign policies of President Roosevelt "are leading us straight into war" and his domestic policies "are leading to complete collapse," Wendell Willkie asserted today in a statement in which he also charged Mr. Roosevelt with "making campaign material of the duties of the president of the United States."

Quiet Day

This was a quiet day for the Republican presidential candidate with only two speeches and a radio broadcast scheduled and it started with the issuance of the statement in which Willkie chided his oppo-

New Castle Army Office Sets New Record For Month

Sergeant Owen E. Tighe In First Place With 86 Enlistments In September

With 86 enlistments out of 149 applications during the month of September, Sergeant Owen E. Tighe set a new record for the New Castle Army Recruiting Station and was far ahead of all of the recruiting officers in the Third Corps Area.

Sergeant Tighe leads the recruiting field by 21 men and this lead includes the recruiters at the main station in Pittsburgh.

This large number of enlistments also sets a new record for the local station, it being substantially larger than the number recruited for the same period of 1939.

First Draft Call Made Upon State

Eastern Area Directed To Furnish 1300 Men For November 18-27 Period

By EVERETT GERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1—The draft organization in Pennsylvania was called on for the first time today to furnish men for induction into the U. S. Army between Nov. 18 and 27.

More than 1,300 draftees from Philadelphia, Delaware, Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Luzerne counties—or six from each local draft board—within three weeks will be entered into military service.

Quotas were being drawn for other districts throughout the state as state selective service director William M. Lewis admonished every draft board that "the entire administration of the selective service law shall be impartial and free from any political influence."

Local draft boards were told they must hustle to have men ready for the army on schedule this month. All arrangements for the induction of men for the one-year training period are complete, authorities said.

Predict Nazi Drive In Spain For Gibraltar

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A Nazi march through Spain, having as its objective placement of huge guns overlooking the narrow strait at the north mouth of the Mediterranean and a starvation siege against Britain's famous Rock of Gibraltar, was predicted by American military experts today.

The forecast was made following reports that recent conferences between Hitler and the Spanish dictator, Generalissimo Franco, had been "successful."—This was interpreted as meaning the Axis powers plan to fight England at both ends of the inland sea—Italy in Greece and Germany in Spain.

The Americans, however, emphasized their opinion that the German strategy will be to avoid a direct assault against the heavily fortified Gibraltar. Such an assault, they said, would cost between 50,000 and 75,000 men and, even at this stupendous price, the outcome would be doubtful.

The experts pointed out that with Spain's cooperation the Nazis could march through that country and occupy the southernmost tip of the Iberian Peninsula around Tarifa, 15 miles southwest of the Rock.

At this point it is only about ten miles to Spanish Morocco across the Strait of Gibraltar, and the militarists said that big guns stationed ashore there might easily cut the British lifeline into the Mediterranean.

Deny Chamberlain Leaving England

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 1—Reports that former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain had left England for the United States were denied here today—by none other than Chamberlain himself.

"Reports that I have left for the United States are so ridiculous that they are scarcely worth denial," he declared. "I am in England and haven't the slightest intention of leaving."

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—President Roosevelt packed his bags for the last time in the 1940 campaign today and prepared for a climactic 36-hour swing through the all-important states of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, which between them cast 109 votes in the electoral college next Tuesday.

This afternoon the chief executive goes to New York City for the second time this week to follow his long-standing custom of speaking in the Brooklyn Academy of Music on the Friday night before election.

To Cleveland Saturday Night

Tomorrow will find him touring up-state New York, where the Republicans normally have their strength, making rear platform speeches and personal appearance in Rochester, Batavia and Buffalo on his way to Cleveland, where, Saturday night, he will make another major address to refute the campaign charges of his G. O. P. opponent, Wendell L. Willkie. Enroute, Saturday afternoon, Mr. Roosevelt will speak from the rear of his train for the last time in Pennsylvania, at Erie.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly after his return from a last-minute swing of Connecticut and Massachusetts, President Roosevelt left the White House to motor into nearby Maryland and dedicate the new $4,000,000 National Institute of Health, wherein the government will undertake research in the cause and cure of cancer and other thus far unfathomable diseases.

The president asked for the fullest cooperation of the medical profession, saying "we seek the same partnership that we seek for industrial production in the advisory commission."

No Socialized Medicine

"Neither the American people nor their government intend to socialize medical practice any more than they plan to socialize industry," he told

Get 447 Cards For Draftees From Other Localities

New Castle Boards Receive 365 And Rest Go To County Boards

Registration cards for Lawrence county men who were in other cities on registration day are beginning to come in to the local draft boards. Today 447 cards were received of which 179 belonged to New Castle board No. 1, 186 to New Castle board No. 2 and the two county boards got 82.

When the first draft will be made by the local boards is not known yet as the master lists have not yet been received from Washington, D. C. It is thought that out of the 30,000 men to be called in the first draft, Lawrence county will be asked to furnish about 20.

Quiet In Cairo? Not Today, As British Tanks Pass

Headed for the front lines in Egypt, these British tanks rumble through a sleepy, peaceful street in Cairo, capital of Egypt, giving the natives a sight long to remember. Some observers hinted that the Italian campaign against Greece may hurt the Fascist African effort.

BOMBARDMENT OF NAPLES ADMITTED

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Nov. 1.—A sudden revival of the Italian offensive in North Africa was announced by the high command today coincident with disclosure of important gains in mountain-studded Greece.

Italian troops sweeping across the Albanian border "reached roads crossing the Kalibaki River," an official communique said.

(Editor's Note: Chief city on the Kalibaki is Kalabaka, which lies some 70 miles southeast of the Greek-Albanian frontier. There had been no previous indication that the invading Italians had succeeded in making such heavy gains against the stubbornly-resisting Greeks.)

Reopening of the offensive in Egypt carried Italian motorized columns beyond Alamalsamn, 40 kilometres (25 miles) east of Sidi Barrani, where for weeks Marshal Rodolfo Graziani and his colonial units have been massing heavy forces. British and Egyptian forces were attacked and pursued beyond Alamalsamn, the announcement said.

Guffey's Primary Campaign Leaders Bolt To Willkie

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Two of the men who worked vigorously for United States Sen. Joseph F. Guffey during the primary campaign, crossed the road today to throw their support to Wendell L. Willkie, GOP presidential candidate.

They were George Fay Holland, Guffey's primary campaign manager, and Lee McGovern, chairman of Guffey's veteran's committee during the primary campaign. Announcement of the bolts was made by Sen. William B. Rodgers, chairman of the Democrats-for-Willkie committee in Allegheny County.

Athens Has Two Air Raid Alarms

(International News Service)

ATHENS, Nov. 1.—Athens heard two air raid alarms today.

The first warned of the approach of five Italian planes which were held over the western part of the city by heavy anti-aircraft fire. This alarm was sounded at 10:40 a. m. (4:40 a. m. EST).

At 11:50 a. m., the sirens sounded again. In neither case, however, were bombs reported.

Britain To Receive Army Bombsight

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Great Britain will receive the army's crack bombsight and every other military airplane coming off American assembly lines, defense leaders reported today as the United States marshalled additional resources for the English war machine.

Less than 24 hours after President Roosevelt promised 12,000 additional airplanes for the R. A. F. high officials disclosed that the army is releasing its bombsight to the British government.

At the same time, members of the British purchasing mission said orders have been placed for "a great many" American merchant ships and that a large additional number will be acquired over the next year.

Release of the army bombsight has been expected for some time This device while better than any bombsight developed abroad, is still inferior to that now being used by the American Navy. The sight is manufactured by the Sperry Gyroscope company.

The Navy's bomb sight will not be

W. P. A. Workers Picket White House

Claim They Were Suspended From Jobs Because They're Not Voting For Roosevelt

International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Nearly 100 men and women claiming to have been suspended from New York City W. P. A. rolls because they were not going to vote for President Roosevelt, picketed Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House today.

They attempted to leave a statement at the executive offices but police kept the gates, which have been closed since June, shut to them.

Thereupon the group began walking up and down the sidewalk with the police keeping them moving, carrying banners saying "remove Somerville"—referring to the New York City W. P. A. administrator—and "World War Veterans can't get jobs in W. P. A."

Raids On London Are Decreasing

British Believe Nazis Have Transferred Some Of Planes From France

FEW BOMBS ARE DROPPED IN NIGHT

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 1—Two large squadrons of German warplanes, which endeavored to cross the English southeast coast of 20,000 feet, were driven back today by a terrific barrage of anti-aircraft fire.

The Nazi attempt to pierce the coastal defenses represented the only major aerial activity over the British Isles today and led to the belief that a large number of German bombers stationed in France have been transferred elsewhere.

Decrease In Air Activity

An air minister communique told of a further decrease in Nazi air activity throughout the country during the night, and said that a few bombs dropped on London, East Anglia and a Midlands town had caused but little damage.

It added that a few bombs also were dropped "with little effect upon one point on th northeast coast of Scotland."

The regular nightly air raid alarm sounded in London early in the eve-

ATHENS, Nov. 1. — Italian troops today opened a major offensive in their thrust towards the key railroad town of Florina, but on all fronts Greek bombardments plus heavy rainfall were reported holding up the Fascist advance.

The heaviest battle of the five-day war developed in the Pisovera Mountain pass, key position whose occupation would open the way to Florina.

ATHENS, Nov. 1.—Greek warplanes took the initiative along the Greco-Albanian border today, carrying out a series of sudden attacks on Italian airdromes in Albania.

Reports received in Athens stated these air assaults, a violent naval bombardment by Greek warships and fierce counter-attacks by Kilted Hellenic warriors had turned back the main Fascist drive against the key industrial city of Janina.

In addition to incessant bombing attacks on Italian airdromes, it was claimed, Greek planes also bombed and machine-gunned Italian troops on the march in northern Greece.

So far, these reports stated, the Italians have not used any large quantity of tanks in their drive against northern Greek defenses.

Greeks Capture Munitions

(The London Daily Telegraph reported from Athens that large quantities of arms and equipment were captured by Greek troops which staged a counter-attack on a hill north of Janina.

(The paper said the Greeks stormed the position in the face of heavy fire and dislodged the Italians.)

Advices from Corfu stated that Greek naval units in the region of that strategic island for an hour yesterday heavily shelled Italian advance positions on the Greco-Albanian border.

Rome Spokesman Accuses Roosevelt Of War Intentions

(International News Service)

ROME, Nov. 1—Virginio Gayda, Premier Mussolini's press spokesman, today accused President Roosevelt of "deliberate warlike intentions and preparations" against the Rome-Berlin Axis.

The charge was made in a ten-column article in the Giornale D'Italia—one of the longest that Gayda has ever written.

It was for the most part biographical.

Danube Delta Island Occupied By Russians Is Belgrade Report

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BELGRADE, Nov. 1—Reports from Bucharest that Soviet Russian forces have occupied an island in the Danube Delta coincided with word today that German troop trains have been speeding eastward through Rumania for the past two days.

Advices from the Rumanian capital said the Russians occupied Chilia Island in the Danube River Delta, a maneuver whereby they have obtained virtual control of the Rumanian Danube Delta Canal as well as Sulina.

It was understood that the Russians during the Danube River conference insisted that Germany should not occupy positions beyond Galatz and that the Reich complied with this Soviet demand.

Destination of the German troop trains was not revealed. But they were believed bound for Moladavia, the Rumanian eastern province bordering on territory recently ceded by Rumania to the Soviet union.

Other advices from Bucharest said 15 "training camps" have been established by the Germans in various parts of Rumania in accordance with the German-Rumanian agreement providing for instruction of the Rumanian defense forces.

In addition these reports stated, Franz Von Papen, German envoy to Turkey, arrived in Bucharest last night enroute to Berlin. Heinrich Himmler, Nazi gestapo (secret police) chief was understood to be traveling "incognito" through Rumania.

Thousands Of Hunters Roaming State Woods As Season Is Opened

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's hunters, about 650,000 strong, took to the fields and woods beneath overcast skies today as the commonwealth's 1940 small-game season opened.

Enthusiasm ran high despite the weather man's prediction that cloudy skies, plus rain, would greet the nimrods as they plod along game trails.

Pennsylvania forests, long recognized by sportsmen as one of America's hunting havens, abounds with many varieties of game, including ruffed grouse, quail, wild turkey, ring-neck pheasant, rabbit and squirrel. They are all legal prey today.

Rabbits Not Plentiful

Game officials said that while a few species, rabbits particularly, are not as plentiful in many sections as they were last year, small game for the most part apparently is abundant. Squirrels especially were reported to be more plentiful than they have been in the past five

Speed Up Classification Of Draftees

Master Lists Are Sent To Boards

Sixty Thousand Copies Of Official Draft Numbers Are Mailed

YOUTHS OF 21 MAY BE CALLED IN FUTURE

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—About 60 per cent of all American youths now 20 years old will be conscripted for military service in late 1941, it was learned today as national draft officials speeded classification and selection of the 800,000 men to be put into khaki by next June.

Start Draft Machinery

The classification machinery was started when selective service headquarters airmailed to local draft boards 60,000 copes of official master lists of numbers drawn in the national draft lottery in Washington Tuesday and Wednesday. The mailing cost $2,000, since airmail cannot be franked.

First of the official master lists reached many of the local draft boards today, it was stated. The boards were instructed to send out questionnaires immediately to classify conscription registrations so the first 30,000 men can be sent to camp for a year's military training just 18 days hence.

It was believed that every local board would send out about 50 questionnaires to the 50 men whose numbers were the first 50 on the lottery list. However, it was believed that the initial contingent of 30,000 could be filled from among those who hold the first 35 numbers in the lottery. A possibility also existed that the number to be conscripted on Nov. 18 may be materially cut by volunteers.

It was estimated that only five per cent of the 17,000,000 men who registered Oct. 16 would be called for military service during the next eight months, or by June, 1941.

May Depend On 21-Year-Olds

After June, 1941, it was learned, the army probably will depend on youths coming of age for its conscripts. It was believed that all youths now 20 who become 21 years of age by next September 16 would be forced to register under the draft law shortly after that date. Another national lottery also may be held to give them order numbers.

Approximately 1,300,000 youths will become 21 by next Sept. 16. It was estimated by draft officials that at least 85 per cent of them could meet army physical requirements, and it was believed that starting next winter it would draw on the 21-year-old class for conscripts. However, only 69 per cent of the coming 21-year-olds will be needed to fill the 900,000 quota.

Draft officials said that the conscription law is broad enough to allow the army to choose its own draftees, either by sending out calls for men of certain age groups or for meeting certain physical standards.

Meantime, draft officials braced themselves for an expected avalanche of complaints believed certain to pour in once classification and selection gets fully under way.

THOUSANDS OF HUNTERS ROAMING IN STATE WOODS

years, and ringneck pheasants are reasonably plentiful throughout most of their entire range, it was said.

Hunters were cautioned to beware of tularemia in handling rabbits. The state bureau of animal husbandry disclosed that more than 1,000 cases of persons suffering from the rabbit disease have been reported during the past few years, with a mortality rate of nearly four per cent.

Last Minute Warning

A last minute farming to hunters was issued by officials of the game commission to be "extremely careful with firearms while hunting".

"We don't want any accidents if we can help it," Executive Director Seth Gordon remarked.

"In every case where carelessness and negligence is involved," the commission said, "we will hold a referee's hearing and revoke the hunting license privileges of the offenders if the evidence warrants it.

"Persons who cause damage to property, or assault landowners while hunting, or violate any of the other safety provisiotns of the game law, also will be severely dealt with."

In a pointed reminder to hunters, the commission announced that 149 hearings were held for similar offenses during the 1939 season, and 89 persons lost their hunting and trapping priviliges for periods ranging from one to five years.

In addition, it was revealed, five persons were deprived of their hunting licenses because of assaults upon landowners.

"Those who persist in violating the general provisions of the game law will undoubtedly find themselves without hunting privileges next year," officials said.

"This is evidenced," it was pointed out, "by the commission's action in revoking 310 hunting licenses for various infractions of the game laws last year."

ROOSEVELT POLICIES ASSAILED BY WILLKIE

nent for what he termed an attempt to claim credit for the order for 12,000 airplanes placed by Great Britain.

Willkie's statement was as follows:

"In Boston Wednesday night the third term candidate tried by inference and innuendo to get credit for certain orders which the British government has placed with our airplane manufacturers.

"I was surprised by the use, in such superficial manner, of an effort so vital to Britain and to our own safety. I cannot understand the propriety of speaking in a political speech, as if from the White House; of making campaign material of the duties of the president of the United States.

Imaginary Credit

"Of course, the credit that the third-term candidate would like to assume is mostly imaginary. These others have been placed by the British government with American aircraft manufacturers who have been for the last seven years neglected by the third-term candidate, and even abused.

"In making his statement the candidate did not mention the fact that the 12,000 airplanes ordered by Britain are airplanes on order—just like most of our own airplanes. And the tragic fact is that, owing to the policy of neglect and delay over the past seven years, they must remain on order for many, many months to come.

"I entered this campaign with a determination, insofar as I could, to present a solid American front against the world in this dangerous hour. Accordingly, I went the limit in supporting certain elements of the third-term candidate's position in foreign affairs. I wanted to present to the world as much solidarity, and as few of the disruptions of an American election, as possible.

"This attitude of mine has been called by the third-term candidate 'political sterility' and 'me-too' stuff. I was willing to forego use of some of the most telling points against Mr. Roosevelt's rashness in foreign affairs. But my opposition was not willing to let it rest at that.

Would Air Domestic Issues

'I wanted to devote myself mainly to our great domestic issues—the third-term, the utter failure in every single element of the fourth New Deal promises to cure our ills—agriculture, unemployment, industrial recovery, fiscal policy, unbalanced budgets, rising taxes, increasing deficits, our head-long course toward bankruptcy.

"The third-term candidate has avoided every one. Why has he refused to debate them?

"Obviously, because he couldn't. In every field after a record of failure, he has only to offer that he has spent almost 60 billions and increased our national debt by 24 billions—and accomplished no recovery whatever.

"His record on national defense and international relations is even more disastrous. We need effectiveness by prudence rather than swashbuckling conduct abroad. We need realistic national defense at home. We have neither.

"The fact is now clear that the third-term candidate is just as incompetent in naitonal defense as he has been in the solution of every great domestic problem.

"The sooner our people realize that his foreign policies are leading us straight to a war for which we are totally unready, and that his domestic policies are leading to complete collapse, the quicker will come our opportunity to correct both and above all to keep out of foreign war.

"The people will not be fooled on November 5th. The people will turn to the cold facts of the third-term candidate's policies at home."

Deaths of the Day

McChesney Funeral.

Funeral services for William J. McChesney, 316½ Neshannock avenue, were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington and Chestnut streets, with Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second U. P. church in charge.

Pallbearers were Sherman Wimer, Ben Kennedy, Frank Hiler, W. L. Kurtz, Fred Shatser and Charles Schetrom. Flowerbearers were members of the Auxiliary to Sons of Veterans and the Women's Relief Corps.

Interment was in Grand View cemetery, Beaver Falls.

Mrs. Sarah Flynn.

Mrs. Sarah Flynn, aged 78, widow of J. C. Flynn, formerly of this city, passed away at her home in Lorain, O., Thursday evening at 8:35 o'clock after an illness of two weeks duration. Mrs. Flynn resided on Hazelcroft avenue while living in this city.

She is survived by one son, Dudley, two daughters, Mrs. Frank Maloy of Lorain, Mrs. Edwin C. Wilson of this city, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock in Lorain and interment will be made in Calvary cemetery, Youngstown. The funeral party will arrive at the cemetery in Youngstown Monday afternoon at about one o'clock.

Robert W. Weller

Complications following an illness of four years duration resulted in the death of Robert W. Weller, aged 77, of 446 Croton avenue, who passed away at his home this morning at 5:55 o'clock.

Mr. Weller, born in Lawrence county on June 10, 1863, son of Augustus and Sarah Campbell Weller, was the last surviving member of a family of nine children. He spent his entire life time in this county and was for many years a well known farmer of Hickory township. His wife, Margaret White Weller, preceded him in death in 1928. He was a member of Central Presbyterian church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Frances Osborne of this city and Mrs. Flora Dent of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, with Rev. R. M. Patterson, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be Mt. Hermon cemetery, near Princeton.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock and Saturday afternoon and evening from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Warren Funeral

Requiem high mass for Mrs. Theresa Warren, Hillsville, was celebrated Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Lawrence church, Hillsville, with Rev. Fr. Charles D. Galati as celebrant.

St. Lucy's lodge members of both the men's and women's orders attended in a body. Women of the lodge were flowerbearers and men of the lodge were pallbearers.

Interment was in St. Lawrence cemetery, Hillsville.

ROME ANNOUNCES DRIVE IS RESUMED IN NORTH AFRICA

phasized the steady gains being made by the Italians, particularly in Greece, where each successive advance has been preceded by rapid-fire repair of roads blown up by retreating Greeks.

According to the military correspondent of the important Milan newspaper Il Stampa, the Italian advance is proceeding from three directions along three different roads leading out of Albania.

The first was carried out from Argyrocastro, the second from Durazzo, Berat and Premet, and the third from Tirana and El Basan by way of Koritz. The objective is to encircle the important town of Jannina, whose fall is expected shortly.

Improvements wrought in Albanian roads by Italian engineers and the speedy work of sappers have made swift advances possible despite the handicaps of the rainy season, the communique asserted.

Military information declares the Kalamas River, once suggested as a frontier between Greece and Turkey at the Congress of Berlin in 1878, has now been crossed by Italian troops at various points.

RAIDS ON LONDON ARE DECREASING

ning but little action developed and the all-clear signal sounded early in the night.

Cause New Alarm

After an absence of some six hours the raiders returned to the capital early in the morning, causinga new alarm, which continued until after dawn. During this period the drone of a few planes was heard, along the occasional bomb explosions and light anti-aircraft fire. The all-clear signal sounded about 8 a. m. (2 a. m. EST) after which still another alarm, London's 291st, rang out.

This quickly ended, however, and no incidents developed in the London area.

Belief was expressed that removal of large forces of German bombers from bases in France to Italy and Rumania was responsible for the decreasing violence of the night attacks on England.

Two towns in the Midlands were reported to have suffered somewhat heavier attacks. In that region some industrial buildings were damaged and many workers homes were destroyed.

The motto of the state of Virginia adopted in 1776, is "Sic Semper Tyrannis" meaning thus ever to tyrants.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

The News, By Mail, One Year, $5.00

Many cars were seen which had the windows well soaped over by some juveline celebrators. Some garbage cans were also upset about the city, but no serious damage was reported as a result of the celebration of the last night of October.

Only a few days more. Next Tuesday is the date. It's election day. There's scant excuse for any of the 46,000 or so registered voters in New Castle and Lawrence county not casting a vote this year. It's not only a duty of citizenship, but the election is one of the most vital in the history of the nation.

MUMMERS PARADE BEFORE THOUSANDS HERE LAST NIGHT

thence to Croton, to Produce, to County Line and back onto Washington to Mercer. At the corner of North Mercer and Washington the judges stand was located, with Mayor Charles B. Mayne, Councilmen William H. Dunlap and J. Leon Fink, and County Commissioners George H. Bolinger and William D. Walton acting as judges.

Aldens Do Well

The parade turned out to be a field day for the Alden family of West Pittsburg. Between them they took down $40 in cash prizes. First prize of $25 went to John and Mike Alden for their "defense car." An automobile was fitted up like a sniper's post or an advance armed car. It was tropical, it was timely and the judges unanimously awarded the first prize of $25 to the young men.

Second prize went to a group of Indians, naked as a baked ham save for loin cloths. When the prize was awarded it was found that three of the Indians were Aldens also, Alexander, Herbert and Dan who with Theodore Packwitch braved the chilly night for the sake of art. And $15.

Arthur Hartfelder with a giraffe's skin on took third prize of $10. Mildred McCracken garbed as Lillian Russell took fourth prize of $5.

Three bands livened the parade, the senior high, the junior high's and the Croton school band. Croton Boys' Town was out in force with the Croton band and made a fine showing.

Oddly enough this year the comic strip characters were missing. No Charley McCarthy, no Pop Eye, no Jiggs. May West and Lillian Russell were the only figures to get much of a play. The theme of the parade was "God Bless America" and many of the Mummers used this idea.

Cash prizes were given out by the judges and their aides in all 155 of them. The larger prizes were distributed in the News office after the parade was over.

It was a grand evening. The police were on the job and handled the crowd efficiently. There were no disturbances and adding the evening up any one of a dozen ways it spells Success for the Retail Merchants.

PRESIDENT WILL START HIS FINAL CAMPAIGN TRIP

an invited group of about 1,000 persons. "In American life the family doctor, the general practitioner, performs a service on which we rely and trust."

Although the dedication had a non-political setting Maryland Democrats of Montgomery county turned out on the road at the Washington-Maryland line and again in Bethesda with banners proclaiming their assurance the president would carry the county by a 6,000 majority.

Tonight's speech from the Brooklyn Academy of Music will go on the radio at 9 p. m., EST, an hour after the president arrives in New York and motors through the city to the hall. It was expected he would continue to hammer away at his stretch-run series of refutations of Willkie's campaign charges concerning New Deal policies, running a wide gamut from national defense to labor.

Charges Sen. Guffey Is Self-Confessed Income Tax Dodger

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Charges that U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey was a "self-confessed income tax dodger" were left here today by his Republican opponent Jay Cooke of Philadelphia.

Speaking before a large rally of enthusiastic Willkie-for-President rooters, Cooke declared:

"I am conducting a campaign for the United States senate presumably against Joseph F. Guffey, who has the questionable distinction of being the only self-confessed income tax dodger in the senate."

Striking at Guffey's alleged refusal to discuss actual political campaign issues, Cooke added:

"It seems to me that all the New Dealers, from Mr. Guffey up—and that's a long way up—are following the same tactics.

"Mr. Roosevelt said he was going to come out into the open and campaign against Wendell Willkie, but so far I haven't seen much evidence of it."

BRITAIN TO RECEIVE ARMY BOMBSIGHT

released to England but all army craft will be equipped with the device.

Meanwhile, defense officials composing the aircraft priorities board expect to adjust the domestic production program to care for the additional 12,000 airplanes being sought by the British.

Britain To Get 26,000 Planes

This additional order will bring British objectives up to 26,000 American airplanes, some of which already have been delivered.

The army and navy currently are engaged in a program to augment American air might buy 25,002 planes Eventually this will be stepped up to 50,000. At present production rates the American and British military forces are practically dividing equally all planes as they come out of the shops.

This will continue until the Army's new 12,000-bombing plane program gets under way. Officials are now putting the finishing touches to this plan which calls for utilization of the automobile industry to make parts for the new bombing fleet The cost of the bombers is estimated at $2,000,000,000.

Secretary of the treasury Morgenthau reported that a special British mission has inspected American shipyards to place as many orders as possible for freight vessels.

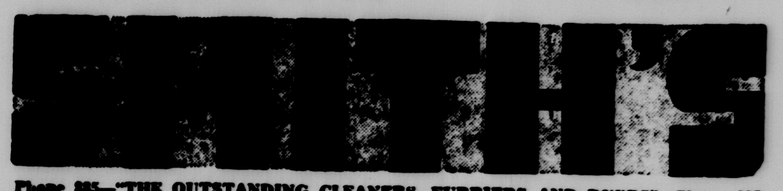

The army bombsight is said to perform with amazing accuracy, from altitudes up to 25,000 feet Competent military quarters predicted that the Royal Air force will exact a much heavier toll of destruction in raids on Germany once its planes are equipped with the American sight. To prevent the bombsight from falling into German hands the army has perfected a system whereby any pilot can easily and completely destroy the mechanism. To further protect the device, it's component parts will be shipped across the Atlantic in separate vessels to be assembled in Britain. Only a few engineers will be given knowledge of assembly essential to maximum performance.

THE BULWARK OF OUR PEACE

NO AMERICAN can speak with more authority on the appalling horrors of the new total warfare than Ambassador Kennedy. As he says, it is not like anything of the past. It is a battle of machine against machine. The belligerent with the most powerful array of mechanized instruments of production is the one that wins. "Machines today are more important than men." Against these modern juggernauts, individual valor, however admirable, never counted for less.

In Mr. Kennedy's considered opinion, if Mr. Chamberlain had had the backing of 5000 first-line airplanes on the home front when he conferred at Munich, the peace of Europe might have been preserved. The inexcusable weakness of Britain, due to its failure to prepare, was responsible in no small measure for the moral surrender to Hitler and the train of evils that followed.

Peace-loving nations relied on a broken reed when they put their faith in disarmament as a safeguard against war. It is the weak nation that invites aggression. The march of events has crushed under foot the falacious assumption that a nation which builds up its armament is necessarily planning to go to war. This is true of Hitler, but it can never apply to free America so long as its people retain their abhorrence of the world's greatest evil.

CLEVELAND SAID:

Grover Cleveland was another great Democrat who, following the views of Jefferson and Jackson, favored a Constitutional amendment limiting a President to a single term of office. He stated the case against Presidential reeligibility in prophetic language:

"When we consider the patronage of this great office, the allurements of power, the temptation to retain public office once gained, and, more than all, the availability a party finds in an incumbent whom a horde of officeholders, with a zeal born of benefits received and fostered by the hope of favors yet to come, stand ready to aid with money and trained political assistance, we recognize in the eligibility of the President for reelection the most serious danger to that calm, deliberate and intelligent action which must characterize a government by the people."

THEY MUST BE MORE BEAUTIFUL

While the young men of America by the tens of thousands prepare for trips to Army training camps, their sisters are getting ready to flock in ever-increasing numbers to beauty shops and hairdressers. Leading beauticians of the country, gathered in New York, estimate that women will spend 300 per cent more beautifying themselves next year than they did this.

If the average male finds it inexplicable, the beauty experts do not. The answer is a simple one: The competition for men, with 800,000 or more of them in the Army, "will be something fierce." The gals must gird themselves for the fray.

In time of crisis, it is explained, women's thoughts turn to making themselves more lovely. When facing the loss of a tooth, a job or a sweetheart, they are instinctively concerned not so much with the pain as with their looks. In the coming crisis the women, we are assured, will not be found wanting.

Well, forewarned is forearmed. Words may fall apart, but the girls are keeping their powder dry.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A BILLION A MONTH!

Federal spending is increasing by leaps and bounds, and may exceed a billion dollars a month for the rest of the fiscal year, until next June, Alexander Hamilton Institute believes. Large as September figures proved to be, they are only the inkling of what is to come.

It is now evident that the heavy spending which the government plans to do this year will be confined to the last nine months. Since it is estimated that total expenditures during the current fiscal year will amount to $13,000,000,000, it will be necessary for expenditures to average $1,189,000,000 each month during the remainder of the year. This will be an exceptionally high rate of spending. Only four times in the peace-time history of the United States have expenditures in a single month exceeded $1,000,000,000.

It seems likely that some inflation will be the result of such large deficit spending. This will naturally provide general business with a stimulant and the prospect is that business activity will be maintained at a relatively high rate as long as this spending continues. The business outlook for 1941 is, consequently, favorable.

A business boom, which is supported by inflation, however, is not of a sound nature and it cannot continue indefinitely. Eventually, the government must curtail its deficit spending. If it does not do this voluntarily, it will be forced to do it by the exhaustion of its credit.

The government has already traveled a long way on the road which leads to a financial crisis.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHER MUST KEEP FIT

Properly parents expect the very best for children from the teacher. In order for her to give of her best she must be well and strong, physically and emotionally. She must have good mental health as well as good physical health. Having such health, she will possess sympathy, understanding, calmness, poise, self-control. She won't be irritable, excitable, jittery. She will have a quiet, cultivated manner, and a gentle voice.

Teaching all day is a trying ordeal. It's no job for the physically and mentally unfit. Unfortunately some of these unfit persons are teachers. The day will come when fewer of such will be trained to teach or appointed to teach and when the health department of the public schools will weed them from among those who have been teaching.

We parents wish more teachers would aim to improve their physical and mental health. Let me entreat the teacher to get ample sleep, rest and recreation. Don't wear yourself out seeking pleasures at night nor deny yourself sufficient fun. Avoid excessive reading of test papers. In emergencies, of course, you will share domestic duties and help nurse the sick. But don't do this continually while teaching.

Rest After School

When you feel very weary after school it might relax you to lie down on the floor or bed. A brief walk might do as well. Perhaps your health would be better if you walked to school instead of riding. Learn to play more social games.

Some teachers find valuable outlets in clubs and church groups, or in sharing living quarters with business young women. The church and Sunday school are fortunate to have the services of the teacher and she may widen her usefulness to the community through such service. Yet many a teacher will wear herself out doing good.

Wider Interests

Some teachers have personal problems they should talk over with the psychologist or psychiatrist. A few should strive to cultivate wider interests. Fortunately there are developing psychiatrists whose treatment is in this direction rather than in magnifying the patient's introspection and worries about herself. Many a teacher who otherwise would have excessive worries finds rich and wholesome outlets in studying the problems of her children in discovering ways to help the parents change the personality and behavior of these children.

We parents can help promote the mental health of the teacher by showing her more appreciation, by helping her celebrate her own successes and by finding ways for her to have better social contacts.

You may have a selected list of books on personality and mental health by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

"ARMISTICE DAY"

I would like to know whether or not the people of this nation are going to celebrate Armistice Day on November 11th.

Such a celebration would seem absolutely absurd. The Armistice signed by the warring peoples in World War No. 1 was questioned by General Pershing and military authorities of the United States. Without laying unction to my soul, I was not enthusiastic concerning the Armistice on November 11th, 1918. To me it was a sad ending to that great War.

I happened to be on that day returning with a Judge of a California court from a duck hunting expedition. We had stopped at a little general store in the mountains to obtain a supply of gasoline. The proprietor, bareheaded, approached our car very excitedly, saying, "Have you heard the news?"

"No," said the Judge, "what is it?"

"The war is over," replied the merchant, fairly, shrieking. "An Armistice has been declared."

The Judge, a highly excitable chap, threw his hat in the air and said, "Hurrah and thank God." He turned to me and said, "What's the matter? Aren't you glad this war is over?"

I replied, "the war is not over. No Armistice has settled such a war. The Germans are not totally defeated. German territory has not been touched. The Germans will only bide their time to obtain revenge."

Well, I was not then nor am I now a prophet or the son of a prophet. That was just how I felt then and events have proven that I was not wrong. The Germans, like elephants, did not forget. France, England and we ourselves forgot and made no preparation for the eventuality. I say "no preparation,"—only superficial preparation. The Pacifists of the United States seemed certain that there was going to be no more war. Had not President Wilson "made the world safe for Democracy?" Well, as long as there is a human left on this planet there is going to be war and every nation who has anything to lose by reason of war had better be ready and prepare all the time—not part of the time, but all of the time.

And so any celebration of Armistice Day on November 11th, 1940 or at any time subsequent thereto will be a terrible joke.

Somebody without a sense of humor defined a pun as the lowest form of wit. Yet it was the pun with which the Court-jester entertained his royal master, although it is on record that Court-jesters were severely punished and sometimes executed for cracking puns that did not happen to go over with his royal audience. One case described in the royal record tells about a King who happened to be out of humor, so to speak, and at this particular time did not want to listen to any funny cracks whether of high or low wit. But his poor Fool kept right on cracking puns and trying to get a belly-laugh out of His Royal Sourpuss. Finally the King lost his patience and grabbing the Jester by the nape of the neck, tossed him over to the Royal Executioner to be hanged, which, you will agree, was stretching the matter a bit too far. By the time the executioner's wife got her laundry off the clothes-line so that the royal decree could be carried out, the King's anger had subsided and relenting, he ordered the Jester back to his job. Whereupon, the darned Fool, overcome with joy, exclaimed, "No noose is good noose!" at which the King instantly turned sour again and hanged the Fool himself. Once a fool, always a fool.

A subordinate in a bank explained to the president of the bank that he had been working there so many years and other fellows who had not been there nearly so long as he were being promoted past him. In reply the president said:

"Well, let me see." Then he followed up with numerous questions such as: "And are you courteous with everyone?" "Yes, I am," replied the young man. "Do you always recognize the janitor, the scrub woman, and all the help?" continued the president. "Yes, I do." "And the little colored boy who cleans the cuspidors?" the president persisted. To this the young fellow sneeringly replied: "Oh no, I don't bother about him."

Then the president, scrutinizing him closely, said: "Well, young man, I am afraid you are not quite ready for a promotion."

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

The nerves of one of my neighbors have been worn to a frazzle by the visit of a schoolmate who, like the daughter of a certain British prime minister of a generation ago, might justly be dubbed "the woman with the serpent's tongue."

Whenever my friend made social contacts for this guest, the latter caused gooseflesh to break out on her by such remarks as these—spoken in tones easily overheard by many who found them offensive.

"I hope those dopes who helped elect so-and-so will get their punishment whenever they look at their dividend checks."

"If he's sap enough to marry a thus-and-so of course their children will all be brought up in that church."

"I've never yet seen an old maid who doesn't deserve to be one."

Question: I never smoke because I think it is a disgusting habit. Nevertheless, I am frequently in the company of both men and women who do. Whenever I am offered a cigarette, I say: I don't smoke. Can you suggest a more polite method of refusal? Or do you think my way is all right?—Sally.

Answer: We must endure many things of which we disapprove. And we must either remove all chips from our shoulders or become hermits. Non-smokers must choose between these alternatives—avoid the society of those who indulge or be pleasantly tolerant with those whose views are broader than their own.

You are privileged to refuse offered cigarettes, but do it graciously, that you may not give the impression of disapproval. Say: No thank you or I don't care for one just now. Do not act shocked or disapproving. Appear as if you think nothing of it. Intolerant people are never popular. If you politely refuse I see no reason why anyone should be offended.

He took the cache, then said,
"It's my day for luck."

Speculate Over Dempsey Appointment
Is Named Member Of Maritime Board
Named After Appointments Were To End

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov 1.—Reasons for the presidential appointment of Congressman John J. Dempsey of New Mexico, a few days ago and so close to election, to the United States Maritime commission are subject of a deal of speculation in Washington.

A vacancy was available on the commission, to be sure. However, President Roosevelt had previously stated that he intended to make no more appointments until after election day. Just why an exception was made in that particular case's favor isn't at all clear to capital commentators.

Furthermore, the Pacific coast had been given to understand that the job would go to one of its own denizens. The impression prevailed that Congressman M. C. Wallgren of the state of Washington would get it. It's reported that it had been definitely promised to him. Well, Dempsey isn't Wallgren, the former's name hadn't been mentioned in connection with a maritime commissionership, and New Mexico isn't Pacifically coastal.

Dempsey likewise isn't a bit acceptable to labor. Among the commission's many duties is that of adjusting relationships between shipping companies and their union seamen, and the New Mexican hasn't a reputation for getting on well with organized workers he's had dealings with.

Labor Trouble

True, his official home is in New Mexico but he's a native Pennsylvanian and his business has been mainly in New York. He's been vice president of the Brooklyn Rpaid Transit and Continental Oil and Asphalt companies and president of the United States Asphalt corporation. In these positions he has a record of some unpleasant clashes with such concerns' hired toilers. Naturally he's looked on askance by unionized sailormen and other groups that they're affiliated with.

In short, he's regarded as a queer presidential selection.

In an effort to account for it, quite a few Washington critics recall the circumstances of the last New Mexican primaries.

At that time Dempsey was a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination in opposition to Senator Dennis Chavez. It generally was believed that the New Deal administration encouraged him. But he was beaten.

Immediately the cry was raised that crookedness in the contest was responsible for his defeat. There was such an uproar that the justice department's Federal Bureau of Investigation sent agents to the scene to probe the situation. They did plenty of quizzing but FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover never made a report (not a published report, anyway) as to their findings.

Now the question is asked in Washington:

"Didn't Congressman Dempsey, being shucked out of political life by his senatorial defeat, threaten to force an exposure which would have been very bad for the New Deal on the eve of the election?

"And wasn't he given that maritime commissionership in a hurry to mollify him?"

It would be easier to solve the puzzle if one knew what the FBI's investigators really did find out as to the New Mexican primaries.

Suspicions Aroused

That certain senators are suspicious is hinted at by the promptness with which several objections were raised to Dempsey's confirmation of his presidential appointment.

Senator Guy M. Gillette is chairman of a committee on investigation of campaign expenditures, but its work doesn't exactly fit into the matter of Dempsey's maritime commissionership, however applicable it may be to New Mexico's local problem.

From other sources comes the story that the appointment hadn't anything to do with the New Mexico fight—that the administration simply wanted Dempsey to make some New Deal speeches and gave him his commissionership to persuade him to do it.

In a way, I'd think that might class as a campaign expenditure.

Dempsey is popular in the house of representatives, but he's about as much a New Mexican as Wendell Willkie is a Hoosier.

False Issues

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.

IT is a pretty dreadful thing that in the last stage of this Presidential campaign the war in Europe should so completely overshadow everything else that it seems practically impossible to focus the attention of the American people upon certain domestic issues which the third-term candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt raises.

YET to a very large extent, that is the situation. On one side, we have Mr. Henry Wallace, Miss Dorothy Thompson, Mayor LaGuardia and a raft of others screeching that Hitler wants Roosevelt defeated and that the triumph of Mr. Willkie would delight the dictators. On the other side, Gen. Hugh Johnson, Senator Vandenburg, Mr. Dewey and various journalistic and political supporters of Mr. Willkie loudly proclaim that Mr. Roosevelt plans to put this country into war and that the only hope of peace lies in the Willkie victory.

AS election day approaches, efforts to make this the real line of cleavage between the candidates increase in intensity, both on and under the surface, and are characterized by an emotional hysteria from which the campaign ought to be free. It is a tremendous pity, and it is as degrading as it is unnecessary. Because, as every reasonably intelligent and informed person knows, there is no real or basic difference between the two men in the matter of foreign policy. It is as unfair to accuse Mr. Roosevelt of "warmongering" as it is poisonously false to intimate that Mr. Willkie tends toward "appeasement". Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie are both for peace. Both regard the survival of Great Britain and the freedom of the British fleet as vital to our own security. Both favor sending all the aid possible to England. Both were for conscription. Mr. Willkie's denunciations of Hitler have equaled in force any that have come from Mr. Roosevelt.

CLEARLY, they are in accord on the fundamentals of foreign policy. Again and again Mr. Willkie has made that plain. He has been highly commended for his courage and steadfastness in resisting pressure from the isolationists in his party (they are in both parties) to compromise his convictions on this immensely important matter. Logically his emphatic stand should have taken the whole business of foreign policy out of the campaign, leaving for debate in that field only the question of under which man could we best create a defense machine. That was what had been expected. That was desired by many friends as well as opponents of the President who feel the necessity for national unity on foreign affairs and hoped for an intelligent discussion of domestic issues, including the third term. It would, they agree, be greatly in the national interests to have that kind of campaign.

BUT THAT, unfortunately, we have not got, and the responsibility for not having it rests squarely on the shoulders of the third-term candidate and the calculated strategy which he and his political aides evolved. They did not want to discuss domestic issues for two reasons—first, the discussion upon the defensive; second, the only plausible excuse for seeking a third term is the critical state of foreign affairs. Hence the President assumed the pose of being too absorbed in the great problems of defense to think about politics while his running mate, Mr. Wallace, in his speech of acceptance, sought to pin the appeasement label on Mr. Willkie and the Republicans. That started it. That brought foreign policy in as an issue when it should have been out. The President, personally, contributed to making it once through his staged press-conference remarks. Governor Lehman helped it along, and the Democratic National Committee eagerly followed up by disseminating literature calculated to stir racial fear and prejudice.

NATURALLY indignant, Mr. Willkie hit back hard reiterating his stand, making it clear what he believes and how he feels. But, that did not change the strategy—it only caused the third-termers to redouble their efforts to make it appear that Mr. Roosevelt is really running against Hitler. In his most recent speech Mr. Wallace went so far in this direction as to detract a great deal from the respect which many who disagree with him as a statesman had for him as a man. It was an indefensible utterance, clearly designed to stir the emotions of the unthinking.

THE inevitable result of this kind of stuff has been to force the Republicans to accentuate the cry that the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt would not only establish him a sa dictator but take us into war before January. Mr Willkie valiantly treis to force the domestic issues to the front, but it is a difficult job, and all the trained traveling journalistic observers agree that feeling about the war will sway more voters than anything else. There is reason to believe that the third-term strategy of making it the overshadowing issue is not working out as well for the strategists as had been

Many Passengers Injured In Wreck

Seventy To Hundred Recovering From Injuries In Wreck Near Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA Nov. 1—Between 75 and 100 persons were recovering today from injuries received when a Reading railroad electric train crashed into the rear of a steam train loaded with homeward bound commuters at a north Philadelphia overpass.

Hundreds of other passengers were shaken up or tossed to the floor when the two-car electric train enroute to Jenkintown telescoped the last car of four on a Bethlehem-bound steam express at Logan Station. The impact, heard for miles, attracted several thousand curious.

Grumbling suburbanites were held up as long as five hours while wrecking crews cleared the tracks to permit passage of other trains. Victims were rushed to three hospitals in ambulances, and patrol wagons for injuries ranging from fractured skulls to scratches.

R. W. Brown, Reading company vice president, blamed the engineman of the electric local for the accident. The engineman, identified as Ira Showers, 55, Philadelphia, was taken to a hospital in critical condition with a fractured skull.

Brown declared investigation showed showers operated his train "at a high rate of speed" after stopping at an automatic warning signal 2,000 feet behind the other train, which had just pulled out of the station. He said the station was protected by the "most modern automatic signals."

'Y' Mummers Party Held Before Parade

Gym Entertainment, Treasure Hunt Top Annual Celebration

One hundred and twelve Y. M. C. A. boys and their pals, all in masquerade, attended the annual hallowe'en party of the "Y" boys' department Thursday evening. It preceded the downtown parade in which the group participated.

Features before the exciting costume judging included gym floor races and a treasure hunt. The hunt was won by Eugene Stewart, Gerry Anderson, Vincent Donati, George Koivula, Dan Harshman, Harold Forkey, Ralph Buckle and Dale Schoenberger.

Prizes for the best outfits went to Kenneth Keck (in the outfit of a skeleton), Edward Bystyga (chicken), Frank Conner (lion) and Jimmy Clinefelter (Don Duck).

MASQUERADE PARTY

The Home Guards of the Methodist church, numbering 21, enjoyed a masquerade party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Nofsker, of Jackson street, Friday evening.

A short business meeting was in charge of Jean Roberts, after which the group sang songs and played various games. Special guests were Homor Phenecie, Junior Nofsker and Glenn Hoover. New members were Jean, Janet and Barbara Gresh, and Eleanor Usselton. Tasty refreshments were served by Mrs. Nofsker, assisted by Mrs. Tommy Phenecie and Mrs. Samuel Phenecie.

PRESENT FLAGS

On Thursday afternoon, October 24, Mrs. Cooper presented a flag and scales to the Harbor school. A patriotic program was given by the children of the school. Late in the afternoon the presentation was made in the North Edenburg school by Miss Albert Fredricks, assisted by Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Dexter, Mrs. Primavere, Mrs. Bessie Ambrosia, and Joe Bidinotti. Patriotic songs and recitations by the school followed the presenting exercises. The flags and scales were gifts of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham.

hoped. More people are affected by the charge that Mr. Roosevelt wants war than by the charge that Mr. Willkie is an appeaser. It easily may be that the American people are sufficiently discerning not to believe either allegation, but to see through the transparent plan of the third-term schemers to delude them, and resent it. If that happens, it will be a just punishment for what certainly is one of the most degraded pieces of political hypocrisy in American history.

1919 KENSINGTON HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A delightful hallowe'en party marked the regular meeting for 1919 Kensington members when they met with Mrs. Mary Sidley in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry E. Zimmerman on the Elwood road.

Hallowe'en stunts and games provided the pastime with prizes going to Mrs. J. A. McFall, Sr., Mrs. E. G. Hoover, Mrs. Roy Griffiths and Mrs. David Valiensi. A special guest of the evening was Mrs. Harry C. Zimmerman. At a suitable time, the guests enjoyed a delicious repast served by the hostess, aided by her daughter.

In two weeks, Mrs. David Valiensi will entertain at her home on Lincoln avenue.

G. W. C. KENSINGTON HAS SOCIAL TIME

Members of the G. W. C. Kensington gathered in the home of Mrs. J. H. Haller on County Line street Thursday afternoon, for a social time, with Mrs. Jennie Cannon, of Greenville and Mrs. Phillip Winter sharing as special guests.

Mrs. Edward Roberts was given the hostess prize and during the business meeting plans were made to meet with Mrs. Charles Patterson on Chestnut street on November 14.

In the late afternoon, Mrs. Haller, aided by Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Harry Simpson, served a delicious repast.

Tour Brookville Home

A group of local women, all members of the Women's Relief Corps, Louis E. Simon No. 11 have just returned from Brookville, Pa., where they were guests at the Brokville Home for the aged, supported by the various lodges. The women also took their donations composed of towels and canned goods.

One group, Mrs. Rilla Rishel, Mrs. J. B. Daugherty, Mrs. Kate Ayers, Mrs. Mary Patterson and Mrs. Georgianna Walsh continued on to Punxsutawney where they were entertained in the home of Mrs. Wm. F. Crooks, sister of Mrs. Rishel. Others attending from here were Mesdames Florence Hoover, Susie Allison, Sara Patterson, Jennie Tyler, Frank Dute, Margaret Reese, Helen McKinley, Blanche Lewis, Mae Earls, Aletha Baxter and Louella Rivor.

Dinner was served the local representation, in the dining room of the Brookville home by superintendent, Mrs. Velma Stunkard. She also conducted them on a tour of the 58 roomed housing quarters, afterwards.

B. S. Club Meets

Miss Angelyn Noviello entertained members of the B. S. Club, Wednesday evening in her home on South Mill street.

Cards were pastimes prizes going to Mary Orrico and Margaret Tempesta. Miss Genevieve DeCaprio captured the club token.

A hankie shower was held in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Anthony DeCaprio, Louise Tempesta and Angelyn Noviello.

Assisting the hostess in serving lunch was her sister Mary Jane.

November 13, is the date for the next meeting with Adeline Tempesta, of South Mill street.

What's In A Name

Members of the What's In a Name club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. W. Evanosky in her home on Butler avenue for a hallowe'en masquerade party.

Games were enjoyed in the beautifully decorated home with prizes going to Helen Rogovin and Ann Conti.

On November 14, Mrs. V. Mangine will entertain the group in her home.

Honors Granddaughter

Honoring her granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Rhodes, who leaves Saturday to take up residence in Birmingham, Alabama, Mrs. John Cooper of Meyer avenue, entertained informally at a lovely dinner party, Wednesday evening, for a group of the former's friends.

EXCLUSIVE NEW TONE GUARD

For centuries, violins have had "f-slots" like those shown in white above. They produce rich purity of violin tone. Similar in principle, the RCA Victrola Tone Guard is an ingenious invention of scientifically shaped slots which bring you rich, pure record tone, by capturing—and suppressing—the unwanted mechanical noises present in all ordinary phonograph-radios.

WHEN WE CELEBRATE, we celebrate—and RCA Victrola Model V-205 pictured at right will give you cause to celebrate, too. It brings with it all the scientific developments and advancements from the RCA Laboratories—leaders in the field of tone reproduction—plus the latest improvements in radio. Come in for a demonstration.

JESUS DECLARES HIS MISSION

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The place where the Nazarenes wished to throw Christ over the precipice.

"For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."—Luke 19:10.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for November 3 is Luke 4 and 5, the Golden Text being Luke 19, 10, "For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost.")

There are so many interesting stories of Christ's life on earth in this lesson that we shall hardly be able to cover them all.

First, last week we mentioned His temptation in the wilderness. We told of His days of hunger and of Satan asking Him why he did not turn the stones at their feet into bread, as He could so easily have done. Jesus' answer, you remember was: "Man does not live by bread alone."

Then Satan took Jesus up into a high mountain and showed Him all the glory of the earth, telling Him that all that should be His if He would worship Satan. Jesus replied, "Get thee behind me, Satan." Taking Him to the top of the temple in Jerusalem, Satan then told Jesus to cast Himself down, if He really was the Son of God, for the Lord would give His angels charge over Him and would save Him. Jesus said: 'It is written, thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God." Jesus never argued with evil, you see He denounced it.

Satan left Jsus after this, and He "returned in the power of the Spirit unto Galilee." People had heard about Him by now, and He went about, teaching in the synagogues. He came to Nazareth, where He was brought up, and, as was His custom went to the synagogue on the Sabbath. As He stood up to read, a book was handed him, and He read from it:

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Nazarenes Are Angered

He closed the book and everyone looked at Him. They wondered at His gracious words. They said among themselves, "Was not this Joseph's son?" Then He reminded them that God had not favored them especially That He had when a great famine had been on the land, favored a widow of the City of Sidom; that a Syrian was cured of leprosy. At that the people became so angry that they turned Him out of the temple and took Him to a hill that overlooked the city, with the intention of casting Him down. But Jesus, who had reminded them that "no prophet is accepted in his own country," calmly slipped through the crowd and went His way.

In Capernaum, a city of Galilee, he cast out a devil from a sorely afflicted man, and all wondered. In Simon Peter's house He cured Simon's wife's mother of a fever, so that she regained her strength and "ministered unto them." And so He went, healing the sick, casting out evil spirits, and even when He went unto the desert to rest, multitudes followed Him.

As the people pressed upon Him to hear the word of God, Jesus saw two ships standing empty by the lake of Galilee, the fishermen being near by cleaning and mending their nets. Jesus preached to the people from the boat, and Simon entering the boat, Jesus told him to go out land and cast his net. Simon said: "Master, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing nevertheless, at Thy word I will let down the net." He did so, and when he hauled it up it was so full of fish that the net broke and Simon called his partners to help him. There were enough fish to fill two boats. When Simon Peter saw this he fell on his knees before the Master, saying: "Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord." He felt that he was not worthy to associate with his Lord. Jesus answered Simon, "Fear not; from thenceforth thou shalt catch men."

This was the first mention of His disciples, for when James and John and Simon saw this miracle, they left their work and followed the Master.

Heals Man Of Palsy

One day when He was preaching in a house friends brought a man afflicted with palsy. They could not get through the people with the man on his bed, so they took him on the roof and let him down, on his couch, through tiling, and Jesus healed Him. The scribes and Pharisees said among themselves that this man—meaning Jesus—blasphemed, for Jesus had told the sick man that his sins were forgiven. Only God could forgive sins, the Pharisees reasoned. But Jesus said:

"Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?" Both deeds are impossible for man, but easy for God.

The calling of Levi (later called Matthew was next. Levi was a publican, or tax collector, for the Romans, and hated by his own people. He gladly left his work and followed the Master. He made a great feast in his house, which was another cause of fault finding by the priests. Why should these followers of Jesus feast? John the Baptist and his followers had fasted. Moreover, Jesus and His disciples ate with publicans and sinners.

Jesus answered them that He had not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. Also that there was no need to fast and be sorrowful when He was in their midst and brought them "tidings of great joy."

Always Jesus, in His short time on earth, lovingly helped the distressed, saving His rebukes for those who oppressed others and who thought more of traditions and customs than they did of human rights. For truly, "the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CARS AND CHILDREN

A few days ago there was a rather terrible accident a few miles from my home. A young couple were speeding along an open highway to the city in their car with their two young children in the back seat.

The youngsters, both boys, were wrestling and rough-housing as children will, when one of them fell back against the door of the car. His shoulder caught the door handle, the door swung open, and the child was thrown out onto the cement pavement. By the time the father got the car stopped and went back to the spot where the body lay, the child was already dead, his skull fractured in several places.

Auto doors cause a surprising number of injuries to children and for that reason children should be considered when a family is acquiring a car.

Couples with children are wise to stick to coach models—those cars with only two doors. I know it may not be as easy to get in and out of the back seat, but while it may be a bit inconvenient it is also a blessing.

I recall the first and last motor trip I had with the Quintuplets. It was the day we went to Toronto to see the King and Queen. We were all in one big sedan, the children, the nurse, myself. I remember as we were driving along, the children were jumping around, too excited to keep still. I suddenly thought how easy it would be for one of them to fall against the door, unlock it and fall out. So right then, I told the nurse to watch one door and I watched the other.

I know one man who has three children and drives a sedan. He has removed the door danger in this way: He uses a leather strap that stretches from one door handle to the other. If one of the children does unlatch the door, it can't come open unless the strap breaks.

However, whenever there are children riding in the back seat of sedans, one of the parents or some other adult should ride in the back seat with them. I know it is much more fun for parents to be up in the front seat together but just remember how terrible you would feel if an accident did happen for which you were partly to blame because you didn't take proper precautions. Remember, too, that while the long motor trip is fun to you adults, it may be a bore to the youngsters. They're not as interested in the scenery as you are, and the chances are that you don't include them in your conversation. They tire more easily than you do, and their nerves will get on edge quicker. If you must take them on long motor trips, devise means of making the time pass more pleasantly for them. If they are being amused or occupied, they'll be less likely to do the "fooling around" with door handles that cause accidents.

Persons who usually travel with children in cars should get in the habit of taking special precautions about closing doors. Never shut them carelessly. I have seen a shocking number of cases of smashed fingers and amputated fingers due to auto door slammings.

Tomorrow: Pediatrics.

Will Continue Forty-Eight CCC Camps In State

By ARTHUR G. WINES
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1—Forty-eight CCC camps will continue in operation in Pennsylvania during the sixteenth work period which opened October 1 and will run until March 31, next year, Civilian Conservation Corps Director James J. McEntee announced today.

Camps to be continued until March 31 include the Raccoon Creek Recreational Demonstration Area in Beaver county.

At the same time, Mr. McEntee reported that since its inception in 1933, the CCC program had given employment to a total of 172,007 Pennsylvania men. The average number of Pennsylvania men employed in the camps during the fiscal year of 1940 was placed at 17,548. The camps actually operating in the Keystone State employed an average of 9,070.

Americanism: Wondering why young aliens don't become Americanized; public schools using foreign language text books that teach Fascism.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy . . . it helps keep the skin soft and pliable . . . thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin . . . for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Birthday Of Girl Scout Founder Is Honored With Party

Event Is Held In Assembly Room Of Public Library, On Thursday Afternoon

Thursday in Girl Scout week, the birthday of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting in this country, was fittingly observed by New Castle Scouts by a birthday party at the assembly room of the public library.

Miss Elizabeth Reis, chairman of the Juliette Low committee, was hostess to the Juliette representatives from each of the Intermediate Scout groups in New Castle, assisted by Mrs. Cassius Boyle. A birthday cake, candles and fruit punch started things off in true Juliette Low fashion, for Mrs. Low loved parties and celebrated, simply but joyously, every happy occasion.

Miss Reis told the girls the story of the founder of scouting. The rapid growth of the organization and the international encampment held each year in memory of Juliette Low.

Mrs. Low, founder of girl scouting, devoted her life to the movement, and by sheer force of her tremendous energy, lived to see girl scouting become a great national movement.

Shooting Follows Argument In Home, Mother Is Wounded

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 1.—Because two brothers argued over who was to keep the coal bucket filled, their mother, Mrs. Frances Nowak, 78, was in an Erie hospital today and one of the brothers was suffering from a gunshot wound in the right arm while the other was being held by police on an open charge.

Mrs. Nowak, police said, interceded with her two sons in an effort to stop the quarrel. She was hit in the right hip by a bullet fired, according to police, by Joseph Nowak, 54.

John Nowak, 50, was struck in the right arm.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Nowak's condition was "fairly good" this morning, but that because of her age, the shock might prove fatal.

Joseph was held by police on an open charge pending outcome of his mother's injuries.

John was treated for the arm injury and released.

GIRL SCOUTS OF NEW CASTLE INC.

TROOP 6

Girl scouts of Troop 6, held their regular meeting Tuesday at Temple Israel.

Peggy Thayer received the horsewoman, ex-patrol leader, swimming and boating badges. The girls in the troop presented their leader, Alice Mae Roberts, with a lovely gift, as she is leaving for Niles, O., next week after her marriage.

Taps closed the meeting.

Scribe, Jo Ann Brown.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Gospel Tabernacle

There will be a prayer service tonight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Blews at Walmo. Cars will leave the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, at 7:15. The young people of the church will hold their service at 7:30 o'clock.

Saturday evening, the official board of the church will hold it's monthly business session

Westfield Church

The hour for the services of the Westfield Presbyterian church will be changed on Sunday morning, November 3. The church service will begin promptly at 10:30 o'clock and the Sunday school service will follow the church hour.

The pastor, Rev. E. A. Shoemaker, will preach on "The Meaning of Prayer."

NEW CASTLE PHYSICIANS URGE ELECTION OF WILLKIE

As members of the medical profession our work is to minister to the physical needs of the people of our community.

Under ordinary circumstances we take no part in partisan politics, nor do we endeavor to sway the judgment of those we serve, in the interests of any candidate.

The present national campaign for the presidency goes beyond the confines of partisan elections. In our opinion it is the most crucial period in the history of the United States since the Civil War.

It is a time when every American worthy of the name must do his part to guarantee the preservation of the American way of life and government.

At such a time we are impelled to cast aside the cloak of political anonymity which surrounds our every day life and declare ourselves.

We believe that the exigencies of the present time demand the election of Wendell L. Willkie as president of the United States.

Our decision is based upon the record of the New Deal in our government for the past seven and a half years. As physicians we are brought into intimate contact with people in all walks of life. We have observed what the New Deal has done to stifle initiative, lower living standards, and in many cases bring physical and mental suffering.

Profligate spending of the people's money, continual experimenting with new governmental ideas, only to discard them for newer experiments, the alarming trend in our government towards totalitarianism, the placing in high governmental posts of theorists and subversive persons, all of these things point to disaster unless we make a change.

Distasteful as it is for us as physicians to enter the political arena, we still remember that we are Americans first and for the reasons set out and for a myriad of other reasons, we urge the election of Wendell L. Willkie as president of the United States.

Forecast Wet Roads For Trip To Johnstown

Motor Club Advises Football Fans To Take Plenty Of Time And Be Cautious

Because of the wet weather, persons planning to drive to Johnstown, Saturday, to witness the New Castle-Johnstown football game, should plan to have plenty of time to make the trip, cautions Bernard Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club.

According to word received by Hanlon from the Johnstown district, it has been raining there all day and rain has been indicated in the weather reports for Saturday.

Drivers should be especially cautious of roads with a black-top surface, due to the fact that they are treacherous when wet.

HUNT FOR VANDALS

Report Clash In Egyptian Desert

British And Italian Patrols In Clash—Italians Suffer Some Losses

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Nov. 1.—A clash between British and Italian patrols in the Egyptian desert was announced by British general headquarters today in a communique which said:

"During the night of October 30-31, one of our patrols in the western desert encountered and inflicted casualties on a party of the enemy without loss.

"Active patrolling continues in the Sudan.

"On October 29, a British patrol in the Kassala sector destroyed the contents of a small camel convoy, taking one man prisoner.

"Enemy reconnaissance parties in the Boue Nile sector who were first successfuly engaged on October 26 are continuing their withdrawal."

POCKETBOOKS TAKEN

City detectives bureau today received a report two pocketbooks were stolen in the rose room, Y. W. C. A., last night. One pocketbook contained $15 and was owned by Ida Casacchia, East Lutton street, and the other, containing $2, was owned by Sue Marone, 1601 Hamilton street.

Examine "Freak" Apple At College

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 1.—The Westminster college biology department this week initiated a real "believe it or not" phenomenon on the campus, when it exhibited an apple that had grown down into a hummingbird's nest so that the upper half of the apple was a deep red, and the lower half a deep yellow, perfectly divided.

Apparently the apple, from the Hughes farm, Deercreek Manse, Gibsonia, started to form just above the bird-nest; and gradually grew until the nest made perfect half-size protection for it. Sunlight colored the top half of the apple; but the lower half, never touched by sunshine, remained a very light yellow.

Prof. Donald Matthews, department of biology, holds the "believe it or not" apple, while Eugenia Essen, left, and Betty Young, both Wilkinsburg sophomores, look on with a certain amount of skepticism.

Rev. J. H. Lawther Dies In Lorain, O.

Pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Lorain, O., Rev. J. H. Lawther, aged 69, died at his home in Lorain on Thursday night, following a long illness.

Rev. Lawther went to Lorain two years ago from East Liverpool, O., and had recently returned to the pulpit after a leave of absence caused by illness.

Surviving are a daughter, Mary Ruth, a teacher in Whittier junior high school at Lorain, and a son, J. Paul of Cannonsburg, Pa.

Rev. Lawther formerly held pastorates at Niles and Bellaire, O., also, and at one time, occupied the pulpit of the local Central Presbyterian church. He was a graduate of Grove City College, from which he received a degree of Ph. D.

Funeral services will be held from the late residence, 1961 East 31st street, Lorain, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The body will be brought to the Jos. S. Rice company chapel, East North street, on Sunday morning and interment will be made Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Oak Park cemetery.

Convention To Come Here In Fall, 1941

Annual convention of the Convocation of Meadville to the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie will be held here in the fall of 1941 at St. Andrew's Episcopal church, according to announcement made in the 29th annual meeting held in the Church of Our Father, Foxburg, on Tuesday of this week.

Those present from the Lawrence county missions were Mrs. Lewis P. Dean, Mrs. Harry Ayers, and Rev. and Mrs. Charles J. Burton.

Every Lion Must Vote On Tuesday

Every member of the Lions club will vote next Tuesday—or face a good stiff fine when he arrives at The Castleton for the weekly luncheon of the club.

To get into the meeting each Lion must produce his corner ballot number to prove he did his patriotic duty, Secretary Thomas I. Elliott explained.

In the United States some 50,000,000 cords of wood are pulverized annually for the manufacture of pulp paper and for other purposes. Hemlock and spruce are used mainly.

Bessemer Has Big Hallowe'en

Five Hundred Mummers Take Part In Parade Last Night

SCORES OF PRIZES GIVEN TO PARADERS

Several thousand persons shared in the biggest hallowe'en celebration ever held in Bessemer, on Thursday evening.

The event was sponsored by the Rotary Club and merchants of the community.

The celebration lured one of the biggest crowds in the history of the community. Archie Shoup, Sr., chief of police, and a corps of deputies, handled the traffic situation splendidly. Despite the immense crowd, no mishaps were reported.

Close to 500 mummers participated in the colorful parade. Headed by Carl Montgomery, burgess, who was in costume, the masqueraders marched along principal streets. Charlie Weitz was marshal.

The following served as judges: Ralph Murtland, Bob Crawford, H. C. Smith, R. E. Roscoe, Floyd Weller and Carl Lago. Dr. F. D. Campbell was the announcer.

Bessemer High, Mt. Jackson High and Hillsville bands filled the air with appropriate tunes.

About 150 prizes were awarded.

At the conclusion, a dance was staged in Bessemer High gymnasium.

"Big Berthas" Hurl Shells At British Convoy

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

DOVER, Nov. 1—German "Big Berthas" on the French coast today hurled more than 100 gigantic shells at a British convoy as it dashed through the Straits of Dover, but shore observers believed that none of the ships were damaged.

(Explosions of the shells could be heard over the telephone in Fleet St., London, as the International News Service reporter at Dover called London with his story of the attack.)

GREEK WARPLANES MAKE ATTACKS ON ITALIAN AIRPORTS

signs of any Italian warships or planes while the shelling was in progress.

Two Greek destroyers, stationed in the Corfu channel, carried out the bombardment of Italian positions near the coast. It was the first action of this kind by Greek naval units since the Italo-Greek conflict began.

Italians Repulsed

An official Greek communique stated that in the northwestern Greek region, Epirus, Italian operations were everywhere repulsed and that the Italian forces sustained losses. Bands of irregular troops cooperating with the Italians were captured, the communique stated.

On Wednesday, the statement said, Greek planes bombed and machine-gunned Italian contingents and shot down two planes.

Despite bad weather, it added, the Greek air force went into action yesterday and hit an Italian reconnaissance aircraft.

The naval bombardment of Italian positions along the border was described in a single terse sentence of the communique, which said:

"Our naval forces successfully bombarded the right wing of the enemy's front for more than an hour."

Italians Fail To Gain

Authoritative quarters in Athens stated that in yesterday's operations along the Greco-Albanian border the Italians failed to gain a "single kilometer" of ground.

In every sector, it was claimed, the Greeks counter-attacked and found it possible to "advance without difficulty."

The Italians used three main types of forces—light tanks which operated chiefly in the western coastal sector, cavalry units and Albanian irregulars.

In one battle zone, it was reported, the Italian cavalry units attempted to cross a river but were hurled back with considerable losses.

Albanian irregulars, led by Italian officers, also were pushed back and a large number of them were captured.

As the Greeks threw their combined land, air and sea forces into the conflict, Greek mountain fighters, aided by heavy rains that converted narrow passes into virtual quagmires, also succeeded in halting a second Italian drive against Florina. This push was aimed chiefly at Greece's Aegean naval port of Salonika.

Seemingly halted on the ground in the north, the Italians struck back by air, raiding the Greek ports of Patras and Navpaktos and inflicting increasing casualties upon residents, although military objectives suffered little damage, it was claimed.

Two Notre Dame Gridders Hurt In Auto Crash

Auto Carrying Two To New York For Army-Irish Game Is Demolished, Both Badly Hurt

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Two members of the Notre Dame football team, Richard Collins of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Jerry Sweeney, Philadelphia, were injured today when their car overturned on the Pennsylvania turnpike, eight miles east of Somerset.

Both were sent to the Community hospital, Somerset, Collins suffering a fracture of the right cavicle and left ankle, and Sweeney suffering lacerations and bruises of the body and a puncture wound of the right ankle.

Police said Collins' car, a new 1941 model, sideswiped another machine and rolled over several times. It was completely demolished.

CLASS PARTY

The Sunday school class of the Methodist church taught by Mrs. Merlin Felger enjoyed the evening at the Township building Wednesday, when they were entertained by Mrs. Felger with a hallowe'en party.

The evening was spent with the playing of various games and later a tempting lunch was served.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beight of the North Side was the scene of much merriment Wednesday evening, when they entertained with their daughter Shirley, at a hallowe'en party for seventeen young folks.

Prizes awarded to masqueraders were given to the following: Richard Solomon, Donald Bixler, Alice Hoover and Jean Ann Reed.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Beight assisted by Mrs S. D. Reed and Myrtle Shaw.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cooper and family were Wednesday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper of New Castle.

North Beaver

Wayne Thompson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson of Mercer county.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Harriger of Darlington visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harriger.

Mrs. Robert Harman spent Tuesday with Mrs. Alton Heard and Mrs. John Davidson of Bessemer.

William Barnes, who had the misfortune to have his hand hurt in a husking machine, is resting as well as can be expected.

Sarah Thompson and Marilyn Conrad, students at Westminster college, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thompson.

The Kings Daughters of the Westfield church motored to the Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning and took part in the sewing for the hospital.

Members of the eighth grade enjoyed a masquerade party in the home of Professor McCullough on Wednesday evening. Following games a delicious lunch was served by the committee.

VITAMIN SUPPLY IMPORTANT

An adequate supply of vitamins in the diet may mean the difference between buoyant health or feeling under par.

FIRST OF DRAFTEES, FIANCEE

Robert Bell, 21, of Washington, whose number—158—was the first to be drawn in the national selective service lottery and who has been called No. 1 draftee because his mother, Mrs. Harry Bell, was in the audience at the time of the drawing, plans to get married. Bell is shown with his fiancee, Miss Virginia Carter.

Woman Injured; Struck By Auto

Masquerader In Costume Struck By Auto Near Grant Street Bridge

Mrs. Maggie Hoon, 57, of Edenburg, is in the New Castle hospital suffering with a fractured and lacerated left arm, laceration of the head and bruises of her body, having been struck at 7 p. m. Thursday, by an auto said to have been operated by Steve P. Piechock, 618 Loveless street, Youngstown. The accident occurred west of the Grant Street bridge.

According to Piechock's report to city police, he was driving in Grant street. A truck and other motor vehicles were operating in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Hoon was reported to have been in the street and wearing a dark suit of men's clothing for hallowe'en purposes.

Piechock applied his brakes, sounded his horn and swerved his car in an effort to avoid the accident, he informed police.

The driver took the woman to the New Castle hospital.

Skidding Auto Injures Two In Pittsburgh, Pa.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—A skidding automobile, operated by an Aliquippa man, struck two men at Webster avenue and Washington street today, sending both to Mercy hospital.

The driver, Charles Calloway, 33, negro, of Aliquippa, was charged with reckless driving.

Those injured were William Freshiner, 57, who suffered possible fractures of both legs, and James Edwards, 70, negro, who suffered internal injuries.

Police said the automobile struck Freshiner, veered against a parked automobile and skidded, the rear end hitting Edwards.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Harry C. Ryhal, aged 45, of 507 Elizabeth street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 5:30 o'clock this morning for injuries to his back. He claimed that he was waylaid and attacked at the corner of West Washington street and Beaver street in his car, and hurt his back. After telling his story to police he was advised to swear out warrants against two young men with whom it was alleged he had been drinking last night.

TO EXPAND PLANTS

SHARON, Pa., Nov. 1—The Sharon Steel Corporation will spend approximately $1,000,000 on its Sharon and Lowellville, O., plants, it was announced today.

A new 4-high reversing cold reduction mill and new coating line will be installed here and a 20-ton electric furnace will be constructed at Lowellville, it was disclosed.

MRS. BRANTON THANKS RETONGA FOR RELIEF

Often Left The Table Without Eating, And Was Too Weak To Enjoy Life She States.

Smiles of happy satisfaction light the faces of the scores of men and women who daily tell how Retonga relieved their harassing symptoms due to an insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach and sluggish elimination—such symptoms as indigestion, toxic poisoning, muscular pains, undernourishment, loss of weight, and lack of strength. Mrs. Agnes E. Branton, well known home owner of 2743 Stafford St., Pittsburgh, is among many recently to publicly praise Retonga.

"I really didn't have strength enough to enjoy life," stated Mrs. Branton. "My appetite was so poor that I often left the table without trying to eat, and when I did manage to eat a meal I was so distressed with indigestion I sometimes felt like my breath would actually stop. As a consequence, undernourishment, lack of strength, and nervousness kept me feeling miserable.

"Retonga brought me wonderful relief, my appetite is good and I don't have to be particular what I eat. My friends tell me I am looking much better. I hope my experience will encourage others with symptoms such as I had, to try Retonga. It is grand."

Retonga is intended to increase the flow of gastric juices in the stomach, and to help nature remove toxic wastes from the bowels. Get genuine Retonga at Eckerd's Drug Store.—Adv.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

PASTURE NEEDS REST TO GROW BEST LATER

Many pastures in Lawrence county have been grazed so closely this fall that they are now producing very little feed.

These pastures will go through the winter better, start earlier next spring, and produce more feed next summer if they are allowed to make some top growth from now on this fall. Such growth strengthens the root system and gives the field some protection and cover. Late, close grazing in the fall means late, short pasture in the spring.

To give the pasture a rest period now, livestock may be turned out on fields which will be plowed for corn or on grain stubble. Where the new clover seeding has gotten very large this fall, it may be a decided advantage to graze off some of it and trample it down, rather than have such a heavy smothering growth left over winter to hurt the quality of hay next year.

On the other hand, pasture seems to be helped and never injured by a large fall growth. Clipping of alfalfa and clover fields in the fall is not desirable.

In pasturing clover or alfalfa, one should be careful to avoid danger of bloat. Having the stock pretty well filled up when they go on the clover or alfalfa is the best preventative.

EARLY PRUNING MAY LEAD TO SEVERE WINTER INJURY

Pruning fruit trees in the fall formerly was a rather common practice in parts of Pennsylvania, but the cold winters of 1934 and 1936 forcibly reminded many growers of the dangers of this procedure.

The last parts of the tree to become fully mature and reach maximum hardiness in the autumn and early winter are the larger crotches and the lower portions of the trunk. Maturity in these parts of the tree is dependent on the downward movement of food from the branches and twigs. This movement continues for considerable time after the leaves have fallen. Thus, pruning in the fall or early winter may reduce the hardiness of the tree.

Poorer healing and more decay are common observations where early pruning is followed by severe winter weather. Thus, the danger of winter injury may be reduced by delaying pruning until after midwinter.

Despite the grower's best efforts to reduce its severity, winter injury may be experienced, and the grower must proceed accordingly. If the winter weather has been severe and injury to the tree is suspected, it will be wise to dispense with pruning entirely or to delay the work until growth has started and the more severely injured branches may be readily recognized and removed. Numerous observations have shown that trees which have been severely winter-injured make better recovery when not pruned.

These considerations are especially important with peaches, since they are more tender to cold than apples.

Circular No. 220, entitled "Pruning Apple Trees in Pennsylvania," gives helpful information on the subject. It is a publication of the Pennsylvania State college agricultural extension service and may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle, free of charge.

PULLET NEEDS PLENTY OF HOPPER FEEDING SPACE

Poultrymen can lose money after their pullets are housed and laying if sufficient feeder space is not provided. Feeding hoppers are used for the laying mash, or ground feeds, while grain feed or scratch mixture may be fed in hoppers or in the litter.

Before heavy production starts and while the pullets are on range, a shortage of feeding space may not be serious especially if the scratch grain is scattered on the ground and the pasture is succulent and ample. In the laying house the birds usually have little difficulty finding gain that is thrown in the litter.

Trouble comes from insufficient mash consumption resulting from lack of feeding equipment. The mash contains, for the most part, the kind of raw material which is transformed into eggs.

As the rhythm of egg production gets under way, the need for raw material becomes heavier. When the fowl is unable to get ample supplies, the body reserves are used. When the reserve is depleted, production ceases as an inevitable result.

At least two five-foot feeders are required for 100 fowls when they can eat mash from both sides of the hoppers. If the grain also is hopper feed, a like amount of space should be provided. If the ration is an all-mash type, twice the amount of space needed for the hand-fed grain and hopper-fed mash combination will be required.

Pelleted feeds may be fed on top of the mash mixture or in separate equipment, depending on the extent of their use. In addition, ample feeders supplying oyster shell and grit may be provided.

CHECK CHIMNEYS TO AVOID LOSS BY FIRE

The season when our houses are most likely to catch on fire is approaching. A majority of the dwelling fires are the result of defective flues and chimneys. Regardless of the fuel used, the mortar joints will disintegrate in all unlined chimneys. The disintegration is most rapid from the top of the chimney to the attic floor line, and takes place in summer as well as winter.

Checking the condition of the chimney is easy. The mortar joints can be tested with an ice pick or similar sharp instrument. If it can be pushed through the mortar at any joint, repairs should be made at once. Also, if the mortar crumbles easily, even though the joints are well filled, it is approaching a hazardous condition.

An additional check can be made by building a hot fire in the heating unit. The temperature of the chimney surface is an indication of its condition. Measure the temperature with the palm of the hand. If the surface is too hot for the hand, the chimney is approaching the danger line. Be sure to check most of the surface.

Rebuilding is the only solution if the chimney is found to be in a dangerous condition. If the base of the chimney is unsound, if the chimney becomes too hot for the palm of the hand when a hot fire is burning in the heating unit, or if the mortar is not firm, then your home is in danger of destruction by fire. Any rebuilding should include flue lining.

EVERGREENS NEED CARE BEFORE WINTER ARRIVES

Both the broadleaf and needle types of evergreens around farmsteads usually need special care before cold weather settles.

All evergreen trees and shrubs fall easy prey to such winter hazards as unsuitable soil conditions, varying degrees of hardiness to low temperatures, drying winds and bright, warm sunshine.

Well-rotted manure or leaf mold should be mixed with the surface layer of soil to add to the fertility of the soil and to make it porous for easy entry of air and water. On top of the leaf mold is placed a thick layer of mulch to prevent deep freezing. Soil freezing either kills the roots or prevents them from taking in moisture which is needed by evergreens during the entire year. Because of this need for moisture, evergreens must be supplied with plenty of water prior to freezing weather.

Cold, drying winds usually are harmful to any evergreens. Probably the best way to keep the winds off the trees or shrubs is to build a burlap screen. When the soil has a tendency to freeze deeply and if there is not much moisture during the winter, extend the screen around the sides of the plant where the sun strikes.

VEGETABLE PLATTERS MAKE MEAL ATTRACTIVE

A colorful platter of vegetables is the pride of every homemaker, believes Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County.

A vegetable platter may consist of from three to five vegetables, with potatoes one of them. It is possible to work out any combination of colors, but more important than color is the selection of vegetables for flavor, texture, and shape.

Serve only one vegetable that is strong in flavor at the same meal. strong-flavored vegetables include broccoli, Brussels sprouts, kale, cabbage, cauliflower, onions, rutabagas, or turnips.

It is a good plan to have one vegetable that is crisp, such as raw carrots, turnip or sweet potato strips, cauliflower flowerets, radishes and celery. One vegetable may be scalloped or au gratin, or stuffed with some meat or fish mixture. Garnishes of hard-cooked egg, strips of crisp bacon, or a cheese sauce add interest and food value to the vegetable platter.

As for coolr, select one green and one bright vegetable. This time of year beets, red cabbage, carrots, rutabagas, and winter squash offer bright color.

Yellow vegetables have a stable color which is not easily destroyed by cooking, Miss Markle points out. Steam or boil them in a small amount of water for a short time to retain their food value. Small whole carrots are attractive on a vegetable platter.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Carl Houk entertained a number of little friends of her daughter, Grace Ellen, Saturday afternoon in her home on the Ellwood-New Castle road. Games and contests were enjoyed with prizes going to Joan Bookamer, Laura St. John, and Bobby Mattox. Many lovely gifts were presented to Grace Ellen in rememberance of her sixth birthday. Mrs. Gerald Barnett assisted the hostess in serving a delicious lunch.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES

Pupils of the Castlewood school enjoyed a hallowe'en party on Wednesday afternoon at the school with Mrs. Hogue, Mrs. Walters, and Miss Cousins in charge of the games.

Mrs. William Irvine and Mrs. Wayne Kirkpatrick entertained members of the G. H. E. M. club Wednesday at a hallowe'en party in the home of the former. Mrs. Walter Piper received the prize for the best costume. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Raymond Robinson. Mrs. Walter Houk, Mrs. Hazel Evans, Mrs. Hazel McHattie and Mrs. Myrna Toth. A delicious lunch was served at the close. On November 13, Mrs. Ruth Twell will entertain the group in her home in Ellwood City.

CASTLEWOOD NOTES

Betty Brown is reported ill at her home here.

Donald Orlando, who has been ill at his home here, is slowly improving.

Wednesday visitors at the James G. Houk home were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alleman, Mrs. William Robinson and daughter, of Rochester, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wright of Rose Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Welsh are moving into the house recently vacated by the Kelly family.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hazen and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly have moved from Castlewood to Ellwood City.

Mrs. Blaine Houk spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Markle of the old Pittsburgh road.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Fleeger, of the Ellwood road, visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fleeger of Ellwood City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Irvine and family motored to Sewickley recently where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Colquhoun and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hogue and family and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Welsh were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Welsh of Ellwood City.

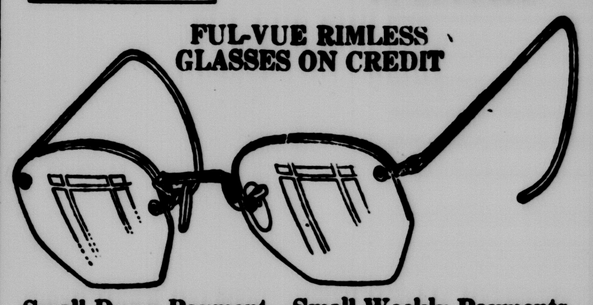

If cooked only a short time in a small amount of water, green vegetables keep their bright color. At the end of the cooking period there should be just enough water to moisten the vegetable.

Notre Dame Heavy Favorites To Win, Yale And Harvard Clamoring

GRID GAME IS REAL MAJOR SPORT

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—When the Yales and Harvards and Chicagos start yammering about football over-emphasis it must be just as baffling to most other people as it is to me, and I never know when to start believing them and when to pass it all up as so much guff to hypocrisy and alibing. Football can't be as bad as some of the people in it insist it is, and it can't be as good as some of the others say, but where the middle line starts and finishes I don't know.

We've got Yale warning everybody else in the football business that they're riding to a fall; Harvard prints in its paper that Cornell should be shunned because of Coach Carl Snavely's lack of idealism, or some such; Chicago insists that football is doomed everywhere because it died there, ending some of the game's finest traditions; and Ohio State accuses Coach Snavely of signalling from the bench after having been accused itself of winning a game with an ineligible player, and Georgia says Columbia won their game on an illegal pass.

Football Doomed?

Everybody is yammering that football is doomed and over-emphasis must go, yet tomorrow here in New York some 80,000 people will fight their way into the Yankee stadium to see the Notre Dames against the Army Cadets in what must be a one-sided tussle in favor of the former, and somehow you wonder if football isn't all right if the people in it would just let it alone.

It is noteworthy that Yale and Harvard are doing their hollering in a year when their teams are losing; Chicago is through with football and the rest of the hollering is bad sportsmanship.

The history of football is studded from one end to the other with accusations tossed around by teams which are down against teams which are up and this season's developments are not surprising, except that a new high has been reached in the yelling back and forth.

Harvard Vs Princeton

Somehow, they haven't got around to Notre Dame and Army yet, but they probably will sooner or later, considering the crowd they will draw in their annual battle, with tickets at $4.40 a copy, and the scalpers getting [illegible] each.

Still, if that is over-emphasis, what is this: Harvard and Princeton playing to 30,000 or so at Cambridge, Mass., tomorrow at $3.30 a head, with few exceptions, to see a game between two of the weakest teams in the nation.

As I was saying at the outset, I don't know where over-emphasis starts and ends, but the foregoing must show some inconsistency.

And as the payoff on it all, will somebody kindly step forward with proof that a winning team ever has hollered about over-emphasis.

Wilbur Thomas Shoots 199 Card

Wilbur Thomas, star member of the New Castle Rifle club, came within the shadows of a perfect 200 string last night at the Cathedral range in a practice shot, his card reading 199. This is an excellent score.

His card read as follows: Prone 50, kneeling 50, sitting 49, off-hand 50—199. Incidentally the New Castle Rifle club members are hoping that Thomas can repeat his performance tonight, when they go to Niles for a shoot in the Penn-Ohio league. All members going should be at the corner of Grant and Jefferson streets at 7 o'clock.

Receives Word From England

Rev. William A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth church, has received word from his sister at Croydon, England, acquainting him of the safety of members of his family.

However, one of his nephews, who was with the British Expeditionary Force, failed to return from Belgium. For a time it was thought he was killed or missing. Word was later received from the Red Cross that he is a prisoner of war in Germany.

Predicts Willkie Will Be Winner

Foremost Political Analyst Says Willkie Will Get 353 Electoral Votes

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Emil Hurja, one of America's foremost political analysts, today predicted that Wendell L. Willkie, will defeat Franklin D. Roosevelt in the 1940 Presidential election by an estimated plurality of 353 electoral votes to 178.

Hurja gives Willkie 29 states, Roosevelt 19.

The popular vote, in his opinion will be "prettly evenly divided."

(Hurja's genius for analyzing political trends have won him fame. He "Called the turn" in 1936 when, as statistician for former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, he predicted Roosevelt would win all but two states. His deductions were largely responsible for Farley's amazingly accurate predictions on various elections.)

Today's predictions by Hurja is based on the result of polls taken by the magazine he publishes—"The Pathfinder"—which has a rural circulation in excess of 1,000,000 copies a week.

Hurja cautions, however, that his figures do not mean that the race is "in the bag" for Willkie. It is extremely close in many states, he points out, and there is yet time for the picture to change.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Doping" athletes is an old sporting custom.

Most athletic directors and all medical men decry it.

Whipping up the body to extreme exertion by drugs is dangerous.

Many athletes drink sugar water during long, gruelling matches.

Dextrose or sugar provides calories in readily adaptable form.

Such substances are not objectionable, medically.

Oxygen priming of athletes is questioned as to its value.

Phosphates give a feeling of freshness and zest.

Cocaine eliminates temporarily the sensation of fatigue.

Benzedrine sulfate, is a potent "pep" drug, dangerous to use.

Foods, vitamin or oxygen may aid athletes harmlessly.

Drugs to stimulate bodily exertion are condemned

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Chorus To Repeat Operetta In Ward

Mahoningtown Young People To Make Second Presentation Of Foster Music

Because of a popular demand, the Mahoningtown Young People's chorus will again present the Stephen Foster operetta in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

Miss Violet Shuler, director of the chorus, stated today that the second presentation of this Stephen Foster musical program will be sometime in December, with the date to be decided in the near future.

Miss Shuler has called the first practice for all people who took part in the first operetta, to be held at the church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

ELLEN WYLIE IS HOSTESS TO TROOP

Members of Girl Scout troop 25 were entertained at the home of their captain, Ellen Wylie, 508 West Madison avenue, Wednesday evening.

At the business meeting an election of officers was held as follows: President, Peggy Hogan; vice president, Esther Cangey; treasurer, Janice Arbie; scribe, Norma Lee Fulton.

Peggy Hogan presented the troop with a special camp newspaper. Dorothy Hall presented her letters from her Girl Scout friend in England.

Next meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 6, at the Mahoning Methodist church.

Scribe, Norma Lee Fulton.

MISSIONARY GROUP AT FRANKLIN HOME

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church were entertained at the North Cedar street home of Mrs. R. A. Franklin, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Adda Robinson was in charge of the devotionals, aided by Mrs. W. G. Wilkins and Mrs. Lucille Ruehle.

Plans were made for a turkey supper to be held in the church on November 14. Next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Bevan, West Clayton street on Friday, December 6.

CIVIC CLUB TO MEET NEXT WEEK

There will be a meeting of the Seventh Ward Civic club next week, was learned today.

The meeting will be a luncheon session at noon on Wednesday in the basement of the Mahoning Methodist church.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Grass that was planted recently at the electrical sub-station, North Cedar street, is beginning to peep through the ground and will make the property quite attractive within a few months.

Ashes are still being accumulated at the huge ash pile along North Cedar street, for use on the city streets during the coming winter months.

* * *

Nearly every piece of porch furniture was removed from ward porches by Thursday, for safety's sake, to prevent it being carried away by hallowe'en pranksters.

TAKE UP RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, nee Olive Parker, who were married recently, have taken up residence at 611 Newell avenue.

MEETING TONIGHT

Members of the Triangle Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church will hold a hallowe'en party in the church tonight.

MAHONING RAMS WIN

The Mahoning Rams defeated the Johnson Wildcats 26-12 Wednesday afternoon at the Clayton street field. R. Horchler and Standish led the attack for the winners with spectacular running and tackling.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Peter Cardella, Lafayette street, has returned home from New York City.

Mrs. Jessie Ballard, Newell avenue, was a recent visitor in Canton, O.

Anthony Navarra, Hillsville, visited with friends in Mahoningtown, Thursday.

Alderman T. C. Rainey, North Liberty street, is confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. Anthony Perrotta, South Wayne street, is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Cesarina Sberaglia, North Cedar street, is reported to be out following an illness.

Herbert Hoffman, Newell avenue, has received a position in the steel mill at Middleton, Pa.

Mrs. J. P. Walters, West Madison avenue, is spending a few days with relatives in Buffalo, N. Y.

Charles P. Pinkerton, New Brighton, a former ward resident, visited with friends here Thursday.

Mrs. Harry Hettenbaugh, North Cedar street, is reported to be improving although still confined to her home by illness.

Peter Perrotta, South Lafayette street, who underwent an operation in the New Castle hospital recently, is now able to be out.

Mrs. R. C. Ellery, Cleveland, O., is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Alderman and Mrs. T. C. Rainey, North Liberty street.

Thomas E. Rainey, son of Alderman and Mrs. Rainey, returned to his home from Bowman Technical Watch college in Lancaster, Pa., Wednesday because of illness. He is confined to his North Liberty street home.

Two Youngstown Trainmen Scalded

SEBRING, Ohio, Nov. 1—Two Youngstown trainmen were in critical condition today following collision of a Pennsylvania fast freight train and a light truck.

The occupants of the truck escaped with minor injuries, but the engineer of the train, Harry Midland, 53, and fireman James Ellis, 41, were severely scalded with the engine overturned and the boiler exploded. The truck was driven by Geo. Atkinson, 41, Sebring potter.

We hate to see the columnists take sides. One who becomes a partisan is no longer a commentator but an agent.

Wonder how a tobacco-chawin', blue-shaving pioneer would have reacted if politicians had offered him security.

We'd better brush up on geography. Fighting to save some land in the Orient will look pretty silly if we can't pronounce it or locate it.

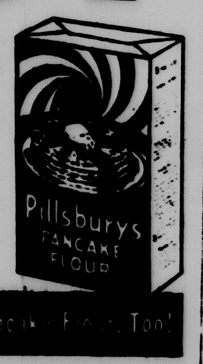

Silver lining note: We know a preacher who left a $3000 job to take one at $1600 because it offered more useful work.

Homecoming Sunday At Harmony Church

An all day meeting is planned at the Harmony Baptist church at Castlewood for Sunday when homecoming day will be observed. Regular services will be held in the morning, followed by communion.

Rev. George Cheesman, of Portersville, will speak at the afternoon service, to begin at 2:30 o'clock, and Rev. L. W. Rupp, of Prospect, will speak at the evening service, to start at 8 o'clock.

F. B. I. Head In Philadelphia Offers Suggestions To Pennsylvania Plant Heads

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1—J. F. Sear, head of Philadelphia's F. B. I. office, suggested that industries engaged in defense projects take these precautions to prevent sabotage:

1. Have a complete record of every worker so it will be possible to trace any connection he might have with subversive elements.
2. Protect effectively all correspondence, papers, plans and all essential tools.
3. Segregate parts of the plant where especially important work is being done.
4. Scrutinize carefully all absences from work and visitors to the plant.
5. Consult the F. B. I. about any doubts of workers or conditions in the factory.

Study Of Foreign Languages Drops

French And German Courses Are Shunned By Students, While Spanish Increases

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Europe's World War II is having a direct effect on the study of foreign languages at the University of Pittsburgh, according to a recent check-up.

According to figures compiled by Dr. Whitford H. Shelton, head of the modern language department, enrollment in Spanish classes has risen about 58 per cent; enrollment in French classes has dropped about 30 per cent and enrollment in German classes has decreased about two per cent.

In the freshman Spanish class this year there are 96 students, as compared to 53 last year. Registration in Spanish classes in the evening division also shows an increase from 22 students last year to 53 students at present, Dr. Shelton said.

The relatively small decrease in registration for German courses was attributed to the fact that German is required for many science courses; while a strong disappointment in the fate of France is, Dr. Shelton believes, a contributing factor in the enrollment in the French course.

CHEST HEADS VOW TO SEND DRIVE UP NEAR $60,500

Community Chest campaigning will go on until most of the needed $60,500 has been pledged, Campaign Chairman Paul G. Dingledy declared today.

"We went over the whole drive situation last night, and we find that about 5,000 subscriptions have been turned in and about 2,000 more remain to get," he said. "And we'll get most of them."

Today $48,000 has been pledged.

At the Y. W. C. A. the drive leaders and permanent officials of the Community Chest, with representatives of the nine agencies whose financial support depends upon the fund, gave consideration to the current campaign prospects Thursday evening. President Alec Samuels presided.

Chairman Dingledy said it was the concensus of the conferees that a Chest drive is favored over nine separate campaigns, but that the citizenry has failed to realize the importance of its support.

Much of the discussion, Dingledy said, concerned ways and means of plotting future Chest drives over.

Edenburg Mummers Have Celebration

Edenburg Woman's Club Sponsors Mummers Parade And Hallowe'en Celebration

In keeping with the gala hallowe'en sprit, Edenburg residents enjoyed their annual mummers parade and hallowe'en celebration on Thursday evening.

The evening was in charge of the Edenburg Woman's club, and also members of the financial aid of the community. A large crowd was present and joined the festivities.

Following the parade, the committee presented prizes to the winners at the Township building.

Prizes for the best dressed couple were warded to Mrs. Marie Cooper and Mrs. Emma Phenecie; funniest dressed couple, Mrs. Vivien Phenecie and Mrs. Mary Nofster; mammy costume, Olive Book; original costume, Gladys Rape and colored man, Mrs. Edith Mayberry. Other prizes were also awarded.

Judges for the event were Frank Sasango, Mrs. Harry Filby, Mrs. Merlin Felger and Mrs. Frank Hofmeister.

Refreshments were served later by Mrs. Mary Morrow, Mrs. Kathryn Roberts, Mrs. Olive Book, Mrs. Mary Louden, Mrs. Frank Hofmeister, Mrs. George Nicholls, Mrs. Vivien Phenecie, Mrs. Mary Nofsker, Mrs. Merlin Felger, Mrs. Ray Biddle, and Mrs. Harry Filby. Approximately 250 guests were served.

Japanese Evacuate Nanning, Reported

(International News Service)

CHUNGKING, Nov. 1. — Hard-pressed by the Chinese army of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Japanese troops today were reported fleeing toward the coast after hurriedly evacuating Nanning.

Chinese dispatches, which described the rout as "like the retreat of the British from Dunkerque," stated that Japanese warships were standing by at Yanchow to cover the flight of the Nippon army.

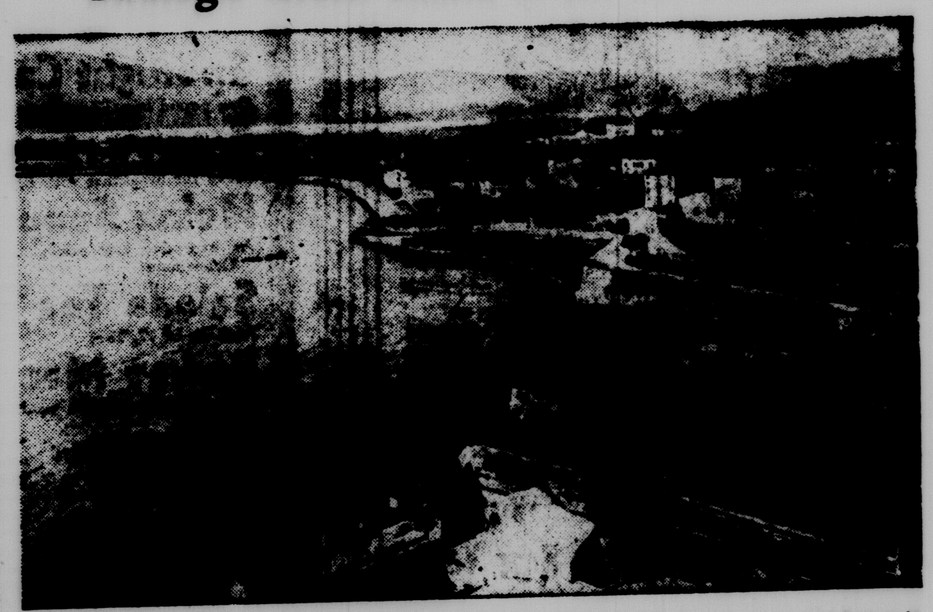

While picked squadrons fought a rear-guard action, the main Japanese army was reported to be retreating southward down two roads from Nanning in the direction of Hainan Island.

Nanning, capital of Kwangsi province, was reported in flames and large fires were reported blazing at Ichang.

(Editor's note: In Tokyo, Japanese military authorities claimed that the withdrawal from Kwangsi was purely a maneuver as Japanese occupation of French Indo-China had lessened the strategic importance of Nanning.)

The bat is the only mammal with true powers of flight. The largest type of bat is the fruit-eating flying fox, with a wing spread of five feet.

Strategic Greek Island in British Hands

The Island of Corfu, shown in this air view, is reported to have been seized by British troops, and Britain is said to be establishing an air base on the island, just off the heel of Italy, to help guard Greek cities from attack and at the same time be within striking distance of Italian objectives. ## Produce Dealer Is Held For Murder At East Liverpool

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 1— A 54-year old produce dealer, Frank Cascio, was being held for the grand jury today on a formal charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Julia Wall, 46, of Smiths Ferry, Pa.

Mrs. Wall was found strangled to death and her body stuffed into a barrel early Tuesday morning.

Municipal Judge Frank Grosshans after hearing testimony in the case Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon, ordered Cascio held for the grand jury on a first degree murder charge.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—No great haste in setting up a "home guard" in Pennsylvania is anticipated, but the 1941 legislature will probably consider the matter at its January meeting . . . Although the state organized a reserve militia of some 7,000 men during the World war to watch over the state in the absence of the Pennsylvania National Guard, little need for one is seen now, at least for the present . . . The fact that the entire 28th (Pennsylvania) division of the National Guard will be stationed at Indiantown Gap next January for at least a year of training is regarded as sufficient protection . . . "Home Guards" are now authorized under both state and federal laws.

This is the first presidential year in which Pennsylvania has been considered a doubtful state . . . Four years ago, up until the day Roosevelt carried the state by 663,000 plurality. Republican leaders considered the state "in the bag" as it had been ever since 1856 . . . Today, in the words of Republican National Chairman Joe Martin, Pennsylvania is "a fighting state."

Pennsylvania's unemployment compensation fund has a balance of $123,000,000 . . . At the end of September, $164,000,000 had been paid to unemployed workers . . . Is is interesting to note that the jobless benefit fund has for a long time now maintained a constant enormous balance, most of which could not conceivably be used up on any occasion, in the opinion of labor economists.

The Republican finance committee of Pennsylvania reported receipts of $484,035 from September 1 to October 23 in a statement filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington . . . Disbursements totaled $601,435 during the same period.

The death of E. Foster Heller, president judge of the Luzerne county orphans court, was a heavy blow to Governor James to whom he had been a trusted confidante and adviser . . . Judge Heller died a few hours after he had dined with the governor . . . Death has cut a deep swath in the governor's family and his close friends in the nearly two years since he assumed the chief executiveship.

The state is now engaged in cleaning all the marble in the Capitol and it is estimated that the task will take more than a year . . . The job is being handled by the Department of Property and Supplies.

Body Of Woman Found In Lake

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 1—The body of Martha Taft, 24, inmate of the Polk State School, was found floating on the surface of a small lake near the institution barn Wednesday night. Officials declared Miss Taft, missing since October 16, had committed suicide by jumping into the lake. There was no evidence of foul play.

The body was found, fully clothed, by Delbert Wolfe, an attendant, and Coroner S. G. Foster, Oil City, was notified.

The young woman was a daughter of James and Alice Taft, Warren, Pa., and was committed 10 years ago by court order. She had run away several times, her last disappearance having been in April. Each time she left, except the last, she was apprehended and returned.

An Argentine report says: "The Federal government controls 65 per cent of the country." Can we count on a nation where Nazis control 35 per cent?

Interest Shown In Regional Conference

Dr. C. A. Hauser, From International Council Of Christian Education, Leader

Much interest was demonstrated in week day religious education at the regional conference held at the Highland U. P. church Thursday afternoon and evening under the leadership of Dr. C. A. Hauser, Christian Education superintendent of the International Council of Christian Education, assisted by Rev. Lee J. Gable, leadership training superintendent of the State Association, and Mrs. J. M. Bailey, a teacher in the Pittsburgh schools.

Opening devotionals were in charge of Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the conference church. "Why This Stir About Week Day Religious Education" was the theme of Dr. Hauser's address and "The Week Day Church School" was the subject of Rev. Gable's message. A discussion period followed in which a number took part. Some of the ministers present having had practical experience in week day religious education in this county. Mrs. J. M. Bailey spoke on "The Total Education of the Child" and conducted a discussion period with some school principals and day school teachers present. The afternoon session closed with prayer by Rev. Charles J. Burton, pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal church.

Rev. R. E. Douglas, Christian Education superintendent of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, had charge of the opening devotions at the evening session and Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, led in prayer. Rev. Charles S. Van Dyke, eastern area director of religious education of the Disciples of Christ, whose home is in Pittsburgh, spoke on "What Does the Law Say?" A splendid address was then delivered by Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of Central Christian church, on the subject, "The Parent and the Child's Education."

Mrs. J. L. Reed, church organist, furnished some beautiful music for the conference. Rev. Frank Hollinshead, interim pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the closing prayer and benediction.

Tuberculosis Society Offers Aid To Draftees

Program Outlined Whereby Drafted Men Rejected By Tuberculosis Will Be Aided

The Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, working with the state and national organizations is prepared to offer its services in the defense program.

Realizing that many of the drafted men will be rejected by the medical examining boards on the ground of manifest or suspected tuberculosis, the local society plans a follow-up program of rejected recruits.

Follow-up work among recruits was carried on during the World War by tuberculosis and nursing organizations, but it is believed that with increased facilities and more experience available now, a greater service can be rendered to the rejected draftees.

The program for rejected draftees will include assistance in arranging for the hospitalization, clinical or home care, as well as the social service during any period of disability and especially plans for their progressive rehabilitation.

RELIGION NO EXCUSE

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O.—It may have been religion, but it landed him in jail anyway. Called to a paint store by a burglar alarm, police found a man with a sack containing several cans of paint. Asked what he planned to do, the man replied he only wanted enough paint to cover the roof of a church which he belonged. The roof went unpainted and the would-be-painter to jail.

FLYNN ASSAILS GALLUP POLL

Latest Survey Shows Willkie Leading In New York, Connecticut And Missouri

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national chairman, today attacked the Gallup poll which in its latest survey says Wendell L. Willkie is leading in the states of New York, Connecticut and Missouri.

"The Gallup poll is controlled by pro-Willkie people," Flynn charged. It was the first time Flynn had commented on any poll since he became President Roosevelt's campaign manager.

"The Gallup poll shows the pro-Willkie people are attempting to do what they did in the Philadelphia convention," said Flynn. "The poll is trying to bolster them up.

"In Philadelphia the pro-Willkieites were dealing with delegates. In this election, however, they are dealing with voters.

"All the information I get is that it is not so that New York, Connecticut and Missouri have switched over to Willkie.

"The Gallup poll is careful to point out there are a lot of 'undecided' voters. That is their 'out.'

Astronomers To Get Instructions

Amateur Astronomers Will Be Aided By Radio In Recording "Transit Of Mercury"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Through the efforts of the Buhl Planetarium, amateur astronomers in the tri-state area will be given play-by-play directions over the radio on November 11 on how to make an accurate record of the "Transit of Mercury," it was disclosed today.

To the layman, that might not mean a whole lot, but to the astronomers, it's really something since they go to great pains to point out that the "Transit of Mercury" will not occur satisfactorily again until 1973. And too, it was added, in 1973 the "Transit of Mercury" might not fall on a holiday, hence the amateurs will be out in full force on Armistice Day.

Their efforts will come to a climax at 3:49 p. m., November 11, when the tiny planet Mercury passes between the sun and the earth. Astronomers hope to make enough mass recordings and calculations to help materially in answering unsolved questions about the solar system.

As for the broadcast, Arthur L. Draper, of the Buhl Planetarium, said his staff will broadcast (over station KQV, Pittsburgh) a half-hour program, from 3:30 to 4 p. m., to bring amateur astronomers non-technical instructions on how to observe the transit and the necessary astronomical time signals.

It was believed this will be the first time a program of that nature has ever been carried out.

DAUGHERTY-HOGUE

Mr and Mrs. Oliver O. Daugherty announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy L. Daugherty, to Victor T. Hogue, of New Brighton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hogue, of Sandyville, West Virginia. The ceremony was performed Saturday morning, October 26, with Rev. Curtis Wise reading the marriage vows. A wedding dinner was served in the bride's home for members of the immediate families. The bride is affiliated with the G. C. Murphy company in Beaver Falls, and the groom is manager of the K and R Gasoline company in New Brighton. The newlyweds are at home to their friends at 1434 Fourth avenue, New Brighton, Pa.

When Warren G. Harding was president he occasionally dropped in on rehearsals of the Marine band, picked up an instrument and played, "just to keep his hand in."

Daily Phone Calls Originating Here Given As 56,061

Telephone Company Reports 10,421 Phones In Service Here At Present

Numerous points of interest in and near this city are described in an illustrated civic section included for the first time in the new telephone directory soon to be distributed. Deliveries will begin November 1 and end November 5.

The municipal airport, the Cunningham Armory, the magnificent Scottish Rite Cathedral, hospitals, schools and historical monuments are listed in the new section, which is printed on blue paper.

Virdyn R. Caldwell, district manager for the Bell Telephone Company, said approximately 13,900 copies of the directory will be distributed. This represents a gain of 650 copies over the preceding issue. The new books will contain 12,050 alphabetical listings, an increase of 500. Classified listings total 2,100, a gain of 150. The new directory will have 104 pages, or 8 more than the previous edition.

Mr. Caldwell said the New Castle exchange area had 10,421 telephones as of September 1, 1940, compared to 9,953 on the corresponding date of 1939. The daily average of originating calls in this exchange area was 56,061 during September of this year. In September 1939 the daily average was 55,181.

The new directory also will be distributed in the Ellwood City and Wampum area.

Lawrence County To Receive $11,381

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Requisitions for the fourth quarterly payment of $1,062,500 to the second class townships of the state were sent today by the department of highways to the fiscal department where the checks will be written. Payments to the townships are due December 1, under the terms of legislation adopted last year by the general assembly.

The general assembly appropriated $8,500,000 to the second class townships of the state to be paid in quarterly instalments during 1940 and 1941.

Amounts due the second class townships by counties on December 1, include:

Beaver, $12,770.96; Centre, $10,977.97; Clearfield, $21,847.46; Elk $6,876.21; Erie, $21,691.04; Indiana, $24,771.93; Jefferson, $16,627.28; Lawrence, $11,381.47; McKean, $7,513.28; Venango, $15,849.70; Warren, $14,216.69.

Sermon topic, "The Man Who Wanted a Mountain"; 7:00 p. m., Y. P. C. E., Dorothy J. Kelly, leader; 7:45 p. m., evening worship, sermon topic, "Modern Devices of Satan". C. P. Durbin, pastor.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The members of class No. 5 of the Chewton Christian Sunday school, about 18 in number, had a delightful time when they gathered at the home of Misses Blanche, Mabel and Betty Lutz on Tuesday evening to enjoy a masquerade party. After guessing "who was who" the group visited at various homes throughout the community. After their return the remainder of the evening was spent in a business meeting, at which time plans were made for their regular Thanksgiving dinner to be held on Friday, November 22, in the basement of the church. At an appropriate hour a delicious lunch and cider were served by the hostesses aided by a committee.

CHEWTON NOTES

Paul Rhinehart, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rhinehart, is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. David Stanford, of Racine, Pa., visited with friends in Chewton on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker, of Wurtemburg, visited with friends in Chewton on Wednesday evening.

Glenn Davis, of Warren, Ohio, visited at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Viola Guy, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Winters and daughter spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Edminston of West Pittsburg.

Mrs. Charles Mallory and daughters, of Squaw Run road, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Solsberg and family on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hendershot and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell and son, Dickie, motored to Brackenridge on Tuesday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kurtz and daughters.

Mrs. Viola Guy, Misses Louise and Ada Louise Guy, and Vere Guy have returned from a motor trip over the "Dream Highway" to Gettysburg, Harrisburg and other southeastern points of interest. They also went over the Skyline drive.

WIFE SWAPPING IDEA

(International News Service)

BATON ROUGE, La.—Men would swap their wives through circulation of a chain letter which reached Baton Rouge. Send a copy of the letter to five friends, it read, and your wife to the man who heads the list. Return on the investment for the better half is supposed to total 15,176 pretty girls.

English Students Are Given Guns

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1—In a ceremony unique in American college annals, the University of Pennsylvania Rifle Club today, presented guns and ammunition to the students of Eton College, England, for refense of the latter's homes and campus in case of an invasion of Great Britain.

Charles C. G. Chaplin, of Haverford, Pa., an Eton graduate, received the gift on behalf of the English school which is now observing its 500th anniversary. Capt. William F Enright Jr., of the rifle team, made the presentation for Penn, now in its bicentennial year.

The British police are called "bobbies," after Sir Robert Peele (1788-1850), who was the organizer of the system.

SELASSIE PLANS TO RESUME WAR WITH ITALIANS

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 1—Emperor Haile Selassie, who was driven from the Abyssinian throne by the Italian invasion of 1936 has arrived in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and is preparing to lead his second war against fascist troops, authoritative British quarters disclosed today.

Tribal chieftains, who have been conducting Gurilla warfare against the Italians in Abyssinia, were reported to have crossed the border into the Sudan for a council of war with their emperor.

23-YEAR-OLD CAT

(International News Service)

FRESNO, Calif.—A birthday cake of sardines and hamburger was nibbled with relish by Pancho, a cat 23 years old, on his birthday after which he settled down for a good nap. Pancho, who may hold a longevity record for felines, retired from the rat-catching business two years ago but otherwise goes about his affairs much as usual, his owner, Mrs. Maude Pugh, reported.

Willkie Says Latest Reports Show Victory

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN, in New Jersey, Nov. 1.—Wendell Willkie today charged that President Roosevelt's foreign policies "are leading us straight into war" and his policies on domestic problems, which Willkie termed the primary issues, "are leading to complete collapse".

Willkie displayed complete confidence in the outcome of the balloting next Tuesday, singling out doubtful states such as Missouri, Kentucky, West Virginia and New Jersey as swinging steadily to his banner.

Enroute to New York for a radio address tonight, Willkie's train made a halt in New Brunswick where a crowd of 10,000 persons heard him declare:

"Already this morning I have heard from responsible people that Missouri is now over the line and we are going to carry it. And Kentucky—the swing is more pronounced every hour, and I'm sure we're going to carry West Virginia.

"There's no question of what's going to happen in this state despite Frank Hague. (Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City.) That firm of 'Frank & Frank' is going to pass out of existence."

Dr. Geo. H. Gallup Defends His Poll

(International News Service)

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 1.—Dr. George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion which conducted the Gallup poll, today dismissed as "fantastic" the charge of Democratic National Chairman Edward J. Flynn that the poll "is controlled by pro-Willkie people".

"That statement," said Doctor Gallup, "is as fantastic as the statement we heard about a month ago from Willkie supporters that the Gallup poll had sold out to the New Deal for $100,000 and as fantastic as the statement in the Chicago Tribune that 'it is a well established fact that Gallup is a rabid New Dealer'.

"Let's wait and count the chips after the election."

Rural Carriers Can Feed Birds

In the Postal Bulletin, received at the local post office, there is a communication from Smith W. Purdum, second assistant postmaster general, which states that during the coming winter season rural carriers will be permitted, as in former years, to distribute grain as food for birds at times when the natural food of the birds is covered with snow, or, when for some other reason, there is a shortage of the natural food.

The department is glad to have rural carriers assist in this work, whenever they can properly do so, and when grain for that purpose is provided by persons or organizations.

It is believed that the carriers will gladly lend their aid in this cause.

State Police Probe Puzzling Auto Theft

Cleveland Man Arrested On North Jefferson Street After Taking Hunter's Car

State motor police are probing a puzzling auto theft, which occurred this morning at 10:30 o'clock near Portersville, when John S. Rugh of R. F. D. No. 3, Portersville, discovered his car was missing from where he had parked it, while he was engaged in hunting.

A description of the car was furnished and the Motor Police searched for it, but could not locate it. Shortly before one o'clock, Mr. Rugh came to State Police headquarters to report the details, and after he had left, discovered the car parked near the Merit Oil Company gasoline station, on North Jefferson street. State Police were notified and they came and placed the driver under arrest. He was unable to talk, and is believed to be suffering from amnesia. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital. A draft registration card found in his possession bore the name of Raymond John Burke, of 135 East 213th street, Cleveland, O.

Rochester Man Hurt In Mill Accident

ELLWOOD CITY, Noy. 1.—Dale Lutz, Route 1, Rochester, was admitted to the local hospital early this afternoon apparently suffering from head and neck injuries sustained while working at the National Tube company.

The accident is said to have occurred when Lutz became entangled in machinery.

The full extent of injuries had not been determined this afternoon.

Next Tuesday To Be Day Of Reckoning For American People

(By ROGER W. BABSON)
Copyright—1940—Publishers Financial Bureau

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The most important day in two generations of American voters comes next Tuesday! In the olden times when a sovereign king opened his mouth that settled it. No one could challenge his decision. He might make mistakes; he might be stupid, even ignorant; but he was the "works" and his word was law. So it is when the American voter casts his ballot. In a crisis such as we are facing today in our national life, what group can we count on when it comes to voting? It seems to me we must count on those independent voters who have the horse-sense that enables them to see through bunk and get to the heart of a crucial issue!

BABSON

Who Are They?

Our democratic ideals imply that the country can always depend on the consensus of judgment of the average man for the wise direction we need in any given situation. The average man does not rate with the so-called intellectuals nor with the rich. He is, however, far more numerous than all the privileged and favored classes put together. At the ballot box he counts accordingly. The well-to-do still count for more than their actual number, because of the influence they exert on those associated with, or dependent upon, them, but their influence is waning.

And yet, even when great issues are at stake at the polls, there is often a fairly close decision. It was certainly so on Lincoln's second election. Furthermore, the slander of that time has never been exceeded unless it was during Washington's campaigns. In more recent times do not forget that the Honorable Charles Evans Hughes went to bed on election night in 1916 convinced he was the country's next president. He awoke the next morning a defeated man.

Voters Disagree

In the national election four years ago, notwithstanding the tremendous sweep of states made by the Democratic Party, there were 17,000,000 men and women who voted on the other side. These 17,000,000 Republican voters were by no means from the privileged and intellectual classes. Among the 27,000,000 voters on the winning side there was a large proportion of the highly educated and the well-to-do. Included in these millions was also a considerable percentage of the so-called middle-class, not exactly intellectuals and certainly not rich.

It would appear that out of the 44,000,000 votes cast for the two major candidates there were 34,000,000 voters who tied each other—one vote for, balancing another vote against. I am considering now the popular vote, not the electoral vote, where the ratio made the result seem like a thunder clap of popular opinion. The 17,000,000 voters who backed Landon do not see it that way. They know that a shift in less than a million votes, some say 300,000, in a number of crucial states would have given Landon a majority of the electoral votes and put him in the White House. If even in a landslide like four years ago a shift in less than two and a half percent of the voters might have changed the final result, what can we expect now where the contest may really be close?

Armies Of Independent Voters

On November fifth, more than ever before, party lines will be ignored by millions. Great numbers of Willkie Democrats have declared themselves, and, as was the case four years ago, there is a flood of Roosevelt Republicans. I am now making no definite forecast, but it certainly seems to me that the results next Tuesday will be determined by the independent voters. What makes independent voters? Certainly one factor is discontent with blind partisanship and disgust with party leaders. Again it is sheer restlessness and dissatisfaction with the way things are going. As the veteran Arizona Senator Ashurst gracefully declared, on his enforced retirement after forty years in the United States Senate: "It is the privilege of the people to displace an official and substitute another for any good reason, or for a bad one, or for no reason at all."

That implies what we all know, that there is no accounting for what the electorate may do in any given situation. Facts, reason, vision, principle, may all play their part, but so do ignorance, prejudice, and passion. Remember that people are governed by their emotions far more than by their intellect! These confusing doubts are the marks of sovereigns all the way down through the pages of history. And by what reason should we expect any more from our 44,000,000 sovereign voters on Tuesday than could be expected of kings, emperors, or dictators?

My Own Beliefs

I, however, have great faith in our voters regardless of their party, race, or creed provided they will take their God and their conscience into the polling booth with them. As I consider the map of the world today who, in his right mind, would want to swap the American electorate for any other system of government? Are our voters wise? Will they do what is fundamentally right next Tuesday? Yes, I believe they will. The natural automatic checks and balances in our religion and body politic, representing among the voters every creed and element, provide a great saving grace. Remember, however, this free flow of human elements at the polls, combined with the provisions of our Constitution, give us the only security upon which we can count.

In this modern world it is surprise to find one-eighth of all power is obtained from wood.

Election day is a short day for many people, but for the two judges of the Lawrence County courts it means a long day. Beginning at seven o'clock in the morning, one or the other judge must be at the court house to hear any election complaints.

Judge W. Walter Braham gets the early bird trick, and will be prepared to hear cases any time after seven in the morning. Judge Dickey gets the afternoon shift and will be on the job until ten o'clock at night.

The election means an all night job for a number of the court house offices. County Commissioners' chief clerk W. A. Eakin will be working all night, so will Charles D. Ross, permanent registration chief clerk; County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer will have to be on the job to pay the boards as they come in, and County Controller Frank W. Hill will have to be on the job to audit the accounts.

Hunting licenses are being issued almost continually the past few days. This year the hunter must answer a questionnaire when he gets his license and it takes more time than formerly.

Saturday is the last day to file accounts for the coming term by administrators and executors in the office of Orville Potter, Register of Wills.

New Castle Ready For Grid Battle At Johnstown, Pa.

Lee, Parou And Morgan Doubtful Starters In Game Saturday At Flood City

Team, Band, And Fans Will Leave On Special Train, Game At 2:30 O'Clock

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team will board the Pennsy special train bound for Johnstown on Saturday morning at 10:10 o'clock, with three regulars as doubtful starters. Lee, Morgan and Parou may not see action at the start of the game, at 2:30 o'clock.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh announced today that Lee's infected leg while responding to treatment was still pretty sore and he will make the trip, but may not play. Morgan has not practiced all week having a throat ailment, while Parou's ankle is still giving him trouble.

Aerial Attack Weakened

With "General" Lee out of the lineup New Castle's famed aerial attack will be somewhat weakened. Lee in his first year has developed into a deadly passer and his absence is going to be felt in no uncertain terms.

At right end either Pugh or Tomalello will perform, and if Morgan cannot play it will be left to Genkinger to handle the pivot post, or Ernie Adamo who has played a year at center can be moved over to the taking over at guard.

Johnstown Team Tough

Johnstown is a real barrier in the path of the locals undefeated record to date. The "Johnnies" in their own back-yard are going to be plenty tough to upset. The Johnstown win over Charleroi last week has pepped them up. New Castle would like to win Saturday and even up the series which stands Johnstown 2 and New Castle 1, but this assignment is going to call for everything that New Castle has in the way of deception, power and forward passes.

The game is being played at Point Stadium, the home of the Johnstown team of the Penn-State league. There will be a section reserved for New Castle students and fans. Reserved seat tickets are on sale here at 75 cents per copy. Students get in for 25 cents.

Will Be Happy Party

It will be a happy football party that boards the Pennsy train from the West Side station early Saturday morning. The trip to Johnstown will take three hours or thereabouts and it is planned to get to Johnstown at 1:10 o'clock. There will be a diner on the train. The special will leave Johnstown one hour after the game, Charles Wetmore, local Pennsy agent announced. The train can be stopped three blocks from the stadium.

The New Castle High band of 105 pieces and eight cheerleaders are making the trip in two private cars of the train. The Johnstown band will meet the New Castle "Red Hurricane" special, it was announced.

Mr. Wetmore announced today that the special train will arrive here at 9:30 o'clock and will start loading equipment and band instruments. The fans can also board the train upon arrival at the station. The train will pull out exactly at 10:10 o'clock.

Titans To Meet Geneva Squad

Game To Take Place On Saturday At Stadium At Beaver Falls

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 1—Facing one of their hardest games of the season, this Saturday, against Geneva, the Westminster Titans went through stiff workouts this week to brighten their passing and blocking, in preparation for their Beaver Falls journey.

Having failed to score against their opposition since the Edinboro game, the touchdown- hungry Titans might play over their heads to make the Covenanter game a close one.

Coach Washabaugh will make only minor changes in his starting lineup for Saturday's contest. John Tack, Butler yearling, will probably start at center, with "Bud" Wilson, Canton, O., regular center starting at one of the tackle positions.

The Titan forward wall will probably include the following: Washabaugh, New Wilmington, LE; Wilson, Canton, O., LT; Hudson, Kittanning, LG; Tack, Butler, center; Lane Johnstown, RG; Reed, Kingwood, W. Va., or Horton, East Liverpool, RT; and Zech, Pittsburgh, RE.

In the backfield, starters will be Riggle, Vandergrift, at full; Pete Evanoff, McKean junior, quarter; J. Demoise, Greensburg, LH; and F. Demoise, or Hill, Donora. Hill has been out of play, since the Youngstown game, October 10 when he received slight internal injuries.

The first football game on record at Westminster was the Geneva-Titan game back in 1891, when a veteran Geneva team plastered the Blue and White 42-0. Geneva has won every game during the past ten years from the Titans, except a 6-6 tie in 1937.

Bill Quick, Kansas State sophomore quarterback, throws passes with his left hand and kicks with his right foot.

Route Mapped To Johnstown

The New Castle Motor Club through the courtesy of Bernard Hanlon, secretary, today mapped a route to Johnstown for those making the trip Saturday by auto, to the New Castle-Johnstown game. It is 114 miles to Johnstown.

Leaving New Castle take 422, to Butler, to Kittanning, (small detour in good condition at Kittanning) to Indiana, on 422, turn right at Indiana and take 119 to Homer City, left at Homer City and take 56 to Brush Valley, to Seward to Johnstown.

Wabash Bears Are Ready For Battle With Ohio Eleven

Seventh Ward Gridders Will Open Home Season Sunday At E. & A. Field

Everything is in readiness for the big battle Sunday afternoon at the E. & A. field when the Wabash Bears of the seventh ward, New Castle's only semi-pro eleven, will open the home season by battling the Youngstown Scher Tailors. The kickoff is slated for 3:30 o'clock.

Willie Dominick, president of the Bears, announced today that the field has been put in excellent condition for the game. Proper police protection will be offered the fans at the field. The Mahoningtown fans are anxious to get a glimpse of the Bears 1940 edition, the team has played all of the earlier games out of town.

The Youngstown team will be made up of ex-high and college starts and will have a strong team. Last Sunday the Tailors topped the Canfield Merchants 19 to 0 with Porter, Horvath and Gentile doing the scoring. This will be one of the toughest games that the Bears have faced all year. The Bears have been stressing a passing attack all week, and also pass defense, as the Chicans are quite adept at passing.

Penn State Is Favored Team

Nittany Lions Are Favored To Defeat South Carolina At State College Saturday

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—On paper, Penn State looks like it has acinch Saturday against South Carolina.

But it isn't going to be as easy as all that. For confirmation of same, just write or telephone Bob Higgins, head coach, Pennsylvania State college, and be prepared to run—not walk—to the nearest exit if you think you'd like to tell him Saturday's date is a "snap game."

The gamecocks are extremely dangerous, as Georgia, Duquesne and Clemson will testify. The Southerners dropped all three battles, but their aerial pyrotechnics, brilliant play and hard-charging line worried the life out of each and every one until the final gun ended hostilities.

Thriller-Diller

For a real thriller-diller, that Penn State-South Carolina game looks like the best one on the card in Pennsylvania this week end. There's only one game on tonight's schedule. That brings undefeated-untied Moravian into action against Juniata at Bethlehem, a school that has lost only one game and was unscored on until last Saturday.

Penn's Quakers resume business at the old stand Saturday against Navy, and barring such things as an earthquake and the like, the Mungermen should taste victory again—that is, if they're gotten over Michigan's 14-0 pasting.

Tech Vs. Cincinnati

Elsewhere, the picture looks pretty bright for the rest of the state's undefeated-untied team: viz: Lafayette over Washington-Jefferson at Easton; Franklin-Marshall over Albright at Reading; Susquehanna over Allegheny at Meadville; Indiana over Clarion at Indiana; and East Stroudsburg over Mansfield at Mansfield.

Pitt takes its second week-end vacation in a row, and with Carnegie Tech playing Cincinnati at Cincinnati, Duquesne University's night rider's take another fling at daylight football, with Marquette supplying the opposition at Forbes field. Geneva vs. Westminster at Beaver Falls; Grove City vs. California at Grove City; Slippery Rock vs. Thiel at Slippery Rock.

Notre Dame, which surpassed the 800,000 mark in attendance two years ago and came within 3,000 of it last year, may again go over this season. The Irish have played to 178,000 spectators in four games, including 25,000 kids in free for the first three.

Jim Youel, Iowa punter, knew how before entering college. In a high school game he booted seven out of bounds within the ten-yard line in one game.

Union Spills Howland, 20-6

Viton, Jaskolka And Kline Score As Union Ends 1940 Campaign

GAME IS PLAYED HERE ON THURSDAY

Union Township high ended its 1940 gridiron season auspiciously, scoring a decisive 20-6 victory over Howland (Ohio) high, Thursday afternoon on Union field.

The Scotland Laners visited pay dirt on the first play following the kick-off. The visitors booted and Union reached the 30. Then, Louis Viton, quarterback, uncorked one of the most sensational gallops of the season, darting half the distance of the field for a touchdown. Viton also annexed the extra point by plunging over center.

After being held scoreless in the second chapter, the locals took the spheroid on their 35 in the third. With the backfield taking turns carrying the ball and reeling off one substantial gain after another, Union pushed to Howland's 5. Walter Jaskolka, hard driving back, paraded over the final stripe for Union's second score. He bucked over for the extra marker.

The Scotland Lapers' final touchdown came as the result of another scintillating play. The Ohioans resorted to aerials as the game moved along to its closing stages. One of the passes, however, landed in the waiting arms of Joe Kline, who grabbed the oval on his 40 and scampered 60 yards for a touchdown.

The visitors chalked up their lone score of the day late in the fourth stanza. Stationed within the 20-yard secior, Union booted. The kick was poor and rested on Union's 30. With Mooney leading the attack, the visitors proceeded to the Union 2. From this point, Mooney bulled his way over.

Eight athletes flaunted the Union grid colors for the last time yesterday. The list includes:

Boyd, Boron, Carpenter, Allen, Taylor, Viton, Ringbloom and Dudo. Dudo, who has been suffering with a sprained ankle, did not play on Thursday.

The lineup:

| Union | | Howland |
|---|---|---|
| Boyd | LE | Merrifield |
| Boron | LT | Martin |
| Sniezek | LG | Rogers |
| Carpenter | C | Jones |
| Womer | RG | Lee |
| Allen | RT | Cook |
| Taylor | RE | Medovich |
| Viton | QB | Parise |
| Jaskolka | LH | Mooney |
| Kline | RH | Zeigler |
| Ringbloom | FB | Kosty |

Score by quarters:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Union | 7 | 0 | 7 | 6 | —20 |
| Howland | 0 | 0 | 0 | 6 | — 6 |

Touchdowns—Union, Viton, Jaskolka and Kline; Howland, Mooney.

Points after touchdowns—Viton and Jaskolka (plunges).

Substitutions—Union, Brown, P. Daugherty, Hoagland, Presner, Witkowski, Reynolds, H. Daugherty, Primavera and Annarella; Howland, none.

Belloise-Overlin Scrap Is Tonight

Middleweight Title At Stake In Garden Bout, Overlin Favored

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Ken Overlin-Steve Belloise middleweight title fight in Madison Square Garden tonight promises to be the biggest betting fight of the year.

The odds have been shifting every day for two weeks and the latest quotations make Overlin a 7-5 choice to retain his title.

Promoter Mike Jacobs said today he would try to match the winner of tonight's 15-rounder wtih Tony Zale, the Chicagoan, who is recognized as champion by the National Boxing association. Such a bout would clear up the present middleweight muddle.

High Rifle Club Defeats Ellwood

The New Castle High Rifle club went to Ellwood City on Wednesday night and defeated the Sons of American Legion team of Ellwood 484 to 475. High string for the match was shot by Bill Eakin, a 99. The New Castle riflers are supervised by Earl McKenzie and coached by Wilbur Thomas.

The results:

New Castle—Eakin 99, Fisher 96, Betty Ward 96, Rumbaugh 96, Evelyn Jones 95. Total 484. Other New Castle scores: Betty Williams 93, Phyllis Ferver 93, F. McConnell 92, J. Gardner 92, Laura Evans 91, J. Williams 91, F. Elliott 90, H. Silverman 89, B. Olmstead 87.

Ellwood City—C. Bowers 97, C. Greenwood 96, McElwain 95, Macksack 94, Giffen 93. Total 475. Other Ellwood scores: Plank 87, C. Greenwood 90, Squiscquer 76, Rumheimer 89, Murdo 86, Bisceglia 89.

New Castle will be host to the Ellwood team here on the night of November 5.

SYRACUSE—Alen Doubleday, a descendant of Gen. Abner Doubleday, the inventor of baseball, is a reserve end in football at Syracuse.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Gridiron melody — After last week's nightmare, we've cooked up a new system. The ingredients include milady's fish bowl and a flock of capsules loaded with 'info.' While mixing the concoction, we pause to report that our score is 139 out of 176, exclusive of nine deadlocks. Up with the first cap:

Minnesota at Northwestern — George Franck and company to stem limping Bill DeCorrevont and Northwestern by a 13-7 shade. . . .

Indiana at Ohio State — You've got to give the "cry babies" the edge. State 14, Indiana 6. . . .

Illinois at Wisconsin—Inspired by last week's victory, Wisconsin to blot out Illinois, 14-7 edge. . . .

Notre Dame at New York, pardon, we mean at Army—Try as he may, Layden will have a tough time holding down the count. Our guess, 24-0.

Purdue at Iowa—Here's one in the toss-up bracket. The cap reads, Iowa 7, Purdue 6.

Nebraska at Oklahoma—This one gives the Cornhuskers the Big Six bauble, provided, of course, that they win. Nebraska by a 21-6 gap.

N. Carolina at Fordham—The Rams hope to make the Tar-Heels pay for that St. Mary's thing. Fordham should win after a gruelling battle, 13-7. . . .

Navy at Penn—The big feature, so far as we are concerned, is Bill Chip, the local athlete who may start for the Middies. While we pick Penn by a 18-7 edge, here's hoping Pa Newe's son burns up the sod. . . .

So. Carolina at Penn State — There's nothing but undefeated season talk at State. So. Carolina won't halt the march of State. The score, 18-7. . . .

Princeton at Harvard—Here's the spot for Dave Allerdice and troupe to get hot. Princeton by an 18-6 count. . . .

Louisiana at Tennessee—The Vols march on the dream highway. Tennessee 19, L. S. U. 0. . . .

Arkansas at Texas A. & M.—By topping Mississippi, Arkansas warned the Aggies. Kimbrough and band will heed it too. Aggies 19, Arkansas 6. . . .

Clemson at Tulane—One of the toughest on the board. Clemson's press agents assure all that Clemson has a mighty good chance. Clemson the nod, 13-7. . . .

Columbia at Cornell—The Big Red trampies another foe, 24-0. . . .

Frank E. Hering, Notre Dame's first official football coach, who has seen them all, rated Capt. Milt Piepul of the 1940 team the greatest fullback in Notre Dame annals after last year's Iowa game.

CHICAGO—Bulldog Turner, Chicago Bears' center from Hardin-Simmons College of Texas, was the only National League football player who didn't have to register for the draft. He is not quite 21.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Bob Latera, former tutor and manager of boxers has given up the boxing game for good and from now on will devote his efforts to his position as chief of police of the Johnson Bronze Company force. Bob was one who knew how to teach a protege how to punch. He learned the art from the late Jimmie Dime and Jimmie Dunn. One of his charges, Johnny Banko, showed bright prospects until he underwent an operation following which Banko was compelled to give up fighting. Bob helped Al Lippe, Ray Alvis and other well known managers to second fighters and for a time, directed the affairs of Jess Willard when the ex-champion heavyweight travelled the country as a referee.

George Perotta, former middleweight boxer who scored 19 knockouts of his first 21 fights, is another who has said farewell to the boxing business. He is now a yard clerk for the B. & O. Railroad, and, incidentally, it might be said that this was a job he was performing when he contracted the boxing fever. Speaking of his departure and return to railroad life, Perotta said yesterday that some of the men with whom he worked in yesteryear are now officials. In discussing some of the middleweights of today, Perotta remarked that he believes that were he in the condition he was when he was going good, he would make things mighty interesting for the Overlins, Zales and Sooses.

When the parade of champions appear in The Arena, Armistice night, the fans are going to see Henry Pratt of Pittsburgh, if arrangements are finally completed. Henry has held the flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight, lightweight and welterweight titles. In addition Les Leasure, the "Canco Kid" who didn't fight because his opponent failed to show up last Monday, Russell Baxter, Frankie Moran and other local amateurs will be on the card. If plans mature there will also be several wrestling matches. Any of the ex-collegiate or Y grapplers who want to try their luck can send their names and weights to the writer who will give them to the Jefferson A. C.

With the break of dawn small game hunters started for the rural sections but according to law, did not begin to hunt the cotton tails, birds or squirrels until nine a. m. The game protectors were in the fields and woods early to see that the hunting law was obeyed.

Steve Belloise and Ken Overlin will engage in a middleweight championship bout tonight in New York. Overlin is an eight to five favorite. . . . Tom Harmon of Michigan leads the nation's total offense leaders in gains. He ran the ball 580 yards and passed it 253 yards in five games for a total of 833 yards. He figured in 167 plays.

Quickies: Les Bell will return as manager of the Harrisburg Senators (Inter-State Baseball League) in 1941 . . . Coach Jud Timm upped the attendance approximately 2,000 at Moravian since he took over two years ago . . . Eddie Dolan and Holman Williams scrap in Scranton tomorrow night.

HANDCRAFTING BY
Kuppenheimer
. . . Insist on it and you'll be building your wardrobe—not merely "buying a suit"

EVERY SEASON for the last few years Mr. A has bought a Kuppenheimer suit—today he still has several good Kuppenheimer suits—all fresh-looking and in good taste. Mr. B bought cheaper suits—today he only wears one—the others look old. So buy your suit with the thought of building your wardrobe and adding to your other suits instead of replacing them. Because Kuppenheimer suits are handcrafted and fabrics are tempered, they hold their style, look new for a long time!

Kuppenheimer Handcrafted Worsteds. A great achievement in value-giving—quality suits at a moderate price. $45

SUFFERS INJURY WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Floyd Hayes, of the Mt. Jackson-Bessemer road, suffered contusions of the right shoulder and right hip, when struck by an automobile driven by Homer G. Raub, of R. F. D. No. 1, Poland, O., shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Mr. Hayes was waiting at the end of the lane near his home, for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ball, of Mt. Jackson, and when they drove up, their lights blinded Raub, who was unable to see Mr. Hayes in the roadway. He was struck and knocked to the ground, but examination at the hospital revealed no bones were broken.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

"GOOD AS GOLD"

I have for sale a bunch of accounts
That run from a dollar to large amounts.
They've been on my books and are getting quite old;
Been running for years - - - - BUT GOOD AS GOLD.

Here's one account made in twenty-six
For a load of cement and a pile of bricks.
Customer says he can't pay today
But will next year from his crop of hay.
If he does not pay when his hay is sold,
He will some day - - - - SO IT'S GOOD AS GOLD.

Here's another account made in twenty-four
For some mill work, sash, and one screen door.
He died last year and left no estate;
Think I still can get it but may have to wait,
He has some relatives, so I am told;
They may pay his account - - - - BUT IT'S GOOD AS GOLD.

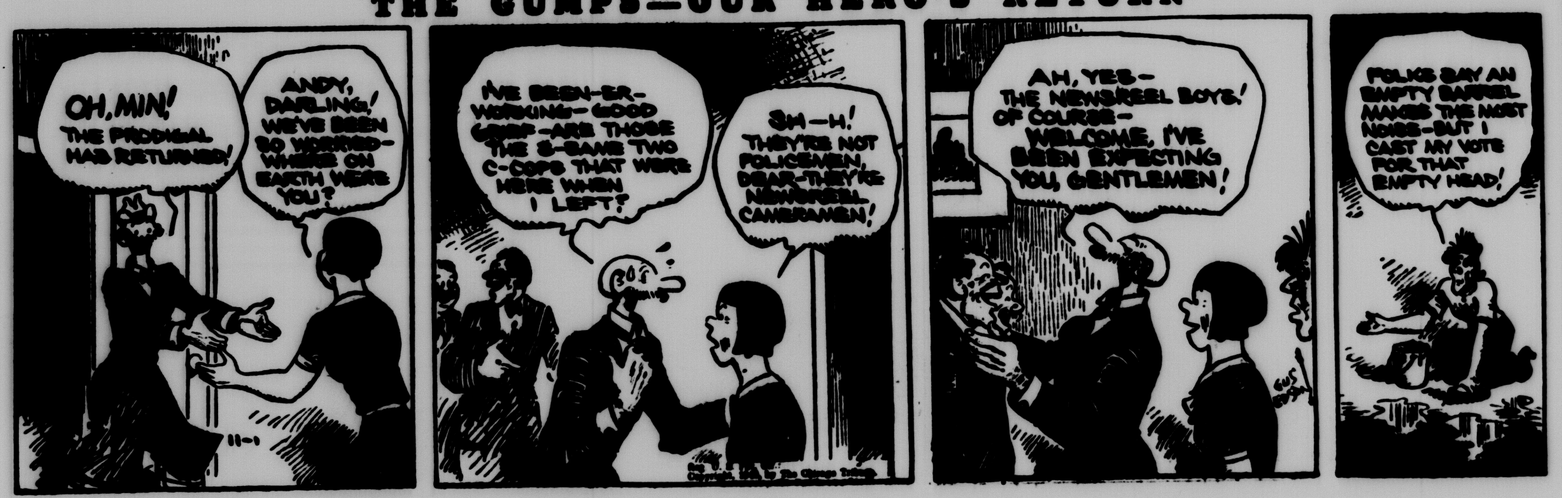

I have two accounts made in twenty-five
Neither of these customers now alive.
One killed in an accident with his truck;
The other had sickness and more hard luck.
Although these men have long been cold
Their accounts are good - - - - YES, GOOD AS GOLD.

One man said "It would be a darn cold day,
Before he'd get around to pay."
So, I'm waiting now for the air to chill
Then he'll come in to pay his bill.
I needn't worry, so I am told,
They're all good - - - - AS GOOD AS GOLD.

Most all my accounts will soon be due;
Have only one that is practically new.
Made in thirty on April third,
But they'll all be paid, for they gave their word.

Now if you to want to invest and take a chance
Of losing your shirt - - - - and maybe your pants,
Just make me an offer, and you might win,
'CAUSE THEY'RE DARN GOOD ACCOUNTS FOR THE SHAPE THEY'RE IN.

Stock Market Opens Strong

U. S. Steel Crosses 70 For First Time Since Last November

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market was strong in the early dealings today in a continuation of yesterday's upswing but developed considerable irregularity later.

Gains at the highs ran to a point and more, notably in the steels, but these were pared later and a number of stocks showed losses on the day by noon.

Steel shares were very active. U. S. Steel started with a block of 5,000 shares, and Bethlehem and Republic with 3,000 each. U. S. Steel crossed 70 for the first time since last November, and was up over a point at its high. Bethlehem was as strong.

Chrysler eased after a fractional rise in the early dealings. General Motors was in persistent demand and rose fractionally.

DuPont slipped after being a point higher. Other backward spots included Westinghouse, General Electric, Douglas, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Eastman Kodak and Montgomery Ward.

Utilities were stronger with North American up over a point. Rails were fractionally higher. American Airlines gained a point and other aviations were higher despite the backwardness of Douglas.

Ellwood Hallowe'en Parade Draws Huge Crowd; Fine Success

ELLWOOD CITY Nov. 1—Presidents, statesmen, society leaders and first nighters laid aside their dignity and mingled with pirates and the three musketeers, witches and goblins as fairy and history book characters forsook their traditional and eerie haunts to parade and dance and preen on the principal streets of Ellwood last night, as the one night of the year, hallowe'en, when everyone is gay and happy and in the right mood, arrived bright, frosty, clear and ideal for the mysterious rendezvous of the "make believe."

For the children, there was Santa Claus, Rip Van Winkle, Friday, the dwarfs, and the many other beloved characters all attired in the bright and colorful array of fairyland.

Hundreds of people of the city and surrounding communities came to town and lined the streets to witness the fast moving parade kept in step by the high school band and the V. F. W. Drum and Bugle corps, whose snappy martial tunes added much to the success of the fine ceremonies.

All of the mummers were carefully judged in a competent manner and the winners will receive some 125 prizes of valuable merchandise donated by the merchants and business people.

Led by a mounted brigade of masked characters, the parade was heralded by red flares carried by parade marshall consisting of the local merchants, whose division of the Chamber of Commerce, completed the detailed arrangements that insured the smooth functioning success of the affair. Sponsored jointly by the merchants and the Boro Council, the parade was not as large as in former years but there was a great variety of characters in clever impersonations.

Street dancing was in vogue after 9 o'clock on Lawrence avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets with the music being provided by Paul Conner's 10-piece band. Various prizes were awarded for the best dancing exhibitions.

Chairman Mike Edelman of the Hallowe'en celebration held in the community last night wishes to thank the public and especially the boys and girls for the splendid way in which they cooperated in the celebration. Mike wishes to also thank his fellow merchants who were on the committee in helping to handle the parade and street dance, the Borough officials such as the Street Department, local police, Borough Manager, Burgess and Council the Herge Radio & Electric store, Boy Scouts Service Corp, Veterans of Foreign War Junior Drum & Bugle Corp and the Ellwood City High School band.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. James Abel, Mrs. Stoops, Mrs. Charles Krepps, Miss Ruth and Howard Caven and they also served an appetizing lunch as the final feature.

Joseph Anderson is seriously ill at his home, on Park avenue.

New Brighton Here Saturday

Will Meet Wolverines At Lincoln Field—Game Starts At 3 O'Clock

ELLWOOD REPORTED IN GOOD CONDITION

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A victory hungry New Brighton high eleven will invade Lincoln field on Saturday afternoon and in a desperate effort to break into the winning column for the first time this year will start out in high gear to overpower the Wolverines. The game begins at 3 o'clock.

According to the local coach, the Blue and White last week, after a powerful holding of Midland high, refused to take Aliquippa as a serious threat and as a result came out on the short end of a 7 to 0 count. He is hoping that he has overcome that fault this week with a series of chalk talks and today will make a last attempt to impress upon his charges that the visitors are a big team and that they can easily upset the locals.

Today's rain has made the Ellwood playing wet and this is expected to be an advantage to the Oak Hillers.

Word comes from Coach Joe Gibson at New Brighton that Craig, a promising guard is out for the rest of the season having injured both knees. Rose, tackle, and Klear, end, are also on the Crimson's injured list.

With the exception of Mattocks, all of the Ellwood injured players will be ready for Saturday's game. While Mattocks hasn't been out to practice this week, he may be in uniform on Saturday.

The probable lineup:

| Ellwood City | | New Brighton |
|---|---|---|
| Tammaro | L E | Carrol |
| Hughes | L T | Zangus |
| Presto | L G | Peluso |
| Pishioneri | C | Wessel |
| Taylor | R G | Mitchell |
| Ross | R T | Goodman |
| Scetch | R E | Smith |
| Rubino | Q B | Irwin |
| Reino | L H B | Jackson |
| DeCaria | R H B | Kutters |
| Matrangol | F B | Kostus |
